Allow Shipment By Alaska Road

OTTAWA, (CP)—Shipment of goods "in bond" over the Alaska highway has been authorized by the Canadian government, it was announced Thursday.

Simultaneous announcements were made here and in Washington that goods in bond would be permitted to move over the highway and connecting roads in both directions between Alaska and the United States.

The government said the new arrangement was an implementation of undertakings given by Canada when it gave the U.S. authorization to build the highway.

Under the previous regulations, there had been no provision for shipment of goods in bond by truck over Canadian roads.

The Alaska highway system, the announcement declared, is not yet in condition for general civilian traffic. "It is not anticipated," it added, "that it will be possible to use the road without restrictions for some time to come."

"However," the statement continued, "the Canadian government has been taking active measures to improve and increase facilities along the highway, and as the situation has improved it has permitted increased traffic.

"The action now taken in authorizing, insofar as facilities are available, transit in bond of goods. . . is taken in anticipation of the time when the facilities on the highway will be such as to warrant opening of the road to general civilian traffic."

Regulations governing bonded shipments, it was added, will be made by the revenue minister.

Ports of entry have been designated as Kingsgate, B.C., Coutts, Alta. and Snag Creek, Yukon Territory.

Edmonton business circles voiced satisfaction Thursday upon hearing that the ban on U.S. goods moving through Canada in bond to Alaska had been removed.

In railway quarters, it was stated that freight traffic over the Northern Alberta Railways to Dawson Creek undoubtedly would increase.

It is anticipated here that some special facilities will have to be arranged at Dawson Creek to handle the transfer of goods from the railway to truckers for movement over the Alaska highway.

L. E. Drummond, secretary-manager of the Alberta and Northwest Chamber of Mines, said there was no question but that the order would mean much additional traffic through Edmonton.

Instead of being moved by the water route up the Pacific coast, goods would be handled in considerable volume through Edmonton over the Alaska highway.

"This gives new importance to the Alaska highway and to Edmonton," said Mr. Drummond.

Rich Polish Art Treasures Hidden in Canada Disappear

OTTAWA, (CP)—Mysterious disappearance of 36 trunks of fabulous art treasures "worth millions" and described as "part of the soul of the Polish people" has been disclosed in Ottawa by Dr. Alfred Fiderkiewicz, Polish minister to Canada.

Spirited from under the eyes of German invaders to England and thence to Canada, the trunks contained gold and silver-woven 16th-century tapestries, precious stones and gold vessels. The stolen 36 trunks represent about 75 percent of a vast "priceless" collection shepherded to Canada for safekeeping.

Prime Minister King Thursday said the question of the missing treasures was not a governmental matter as the treasures were kept in Canada in private custody.

Used Secret Password

Figuring in the mystery is "a man with a tumor behind his ear" who used the password, "The Holy Virgin of Czestohova" to obtain eight trunks of the treasure from their hiding place in the Precious Blood convent in Ottawa.

Twenty-eight other richly-filled trunks were removed from a Ste. Anne de Beaupre, Que., church after "two or three men" presented a "receipt" for them.

Dr. Fiderkiewicz said the "tumor" description identified the mysterious convent visitor as a man named Polkowski, a member of the Polish legation here during the tenure of the Polish-government-in-exile in London.

May Go to R.C.M.P.

R.C.M.P. and other government officers said they have not been informed of the loss of the treasures, but it was considered likely an official investigation would be started soon.

Dr. Fiderkiewicz said an approach to the Canadian government would be his "last resort," but he would refer the matter to the department of justice if the missing treasure is not recovered.

The other 25 percent of the treasure brought to Canada was found intact where it had been stored in vaults of the Bank of Montreal. The trunks contained a coronation sword, a Gutenberg Bible, several 12th and 13th-century prayer books and original manuscripts of the composer Chopin.

Inter-Faction Issue

The Polish minister said the man named Polkowski still is living in Ottawa, as a private citizen. He bluntly said he believed disappearance of the treasure stemmed from friction between Ottawa representatives of the old and new Polish governments.

More than $17,000,000 in Polish gold bullion recently was reclaimed from the Bank of Canada where it had been kept since late 1940.

Canada Will Help Refugees Migrate

OTTAWA, (CP)—Prime Minister King announced Thursday the government has approved measures to make possible the movement to Canada of some refugees and displaced persons who are admissible to this country under existing Canadian immigration regulations.

Mr. King said these arrangements will permit the necessary immigration inspection to be made of refugees and displaced persons now in displaced persons' camps in the occupied European zones or otherwise under the care of such organizations as UNRRA.

Hindus, Moslems Stage New Riots

NEW DELHI, (CP) — At least three persons were killed and seven injured in New Delhi Thursday in an outbreak of Hindu-Moslem rioting which was broken up only after police opened fire.

Looting and continued communal warfare also were reported in Bombay, where police used small arms fire in a battle against rioting crowds.

The district magistrate in New Delhi attributed Thursday's outburst to the Moslem celebration of Id ul Zuha, during which Moslems traditionally sacrifice goats and cows. Cattle are sacred to Hindus.

Reports from Bihar province indicated murder, arson and looting were continuing there.

The British-edited Statesman said the government, which is Congress-dominated in the predominantly Hindu province, reported the number killed might exceed 1,000. The pro-Moslem Morning News quoted one source as saying Moslem dead would number not less than 13,000. The pro-Moslem news agency said the total death toll was more than 30,000.

Regina Youth Killed Under Gravel Slide

REGINA, (CP)— James Vancha, 20-year-old Regina youth who looked up at the 50-foot overhanging bank of a gravel pit and said: "Gosh, that sure would bury a fellow deep," was crushed to death a moment later when the bank collapsed upon him.

Vancha, hauling gravel at Pilot Butte, 10 miles east of here, was waiting to have a tire of his truck repaired when workmen warned him he was standing in a dangerous spot.

Before he could move an estimated 100 tons roared down. His body was recovered 40 minutes later.

Youth Acquitted At Murder Trial

WINNIPEG, (CP) — Eighteen-year-old Telesphore St. Cyr, French-speaking farm youth from St. Eustache, Man., Thursday was acquitted of a murder charge by an assize court jury after deliberations lasting less than an hour. He had been charged with shooting his uncle, Modest St. Cyr, in a stubble field Sept. 13.

Defence counsel had said that Telesphore who cannot speak English and who sat uncomprehendingly throughout the trial, had only intended to frighten Modest when he fired the fatal shot.

Modest, the defence claimed, had come in a drunken rage to the granary the St. Cyr's call home, attempted to attack Telesphore's sister, Margaret, terrorized the family and then pursued Telesphore and Margaret across the fields in his buggy when they ran to summon help.

It was during this chase that the shot was fired by Telesphore.

U.N. Trusteeship Okayed in Pacific

WASHINGTON, (AP) President Truman Wednesday decisively settled an intra-governmental squabble by announcing the United States will place former Japanese islands under United Nations trusteeships which this country will administer.

The decision meant that the state department in effect had won a long-standing debate with the war and navy departments on the delicate issue.

The navy, with some support from the army, had held out for exclusive United States possession — if not outright ownership — of certain strategic islands wrested from the Japanese by American forces during the war. Navy leaders generally did not want such control complicated by any tie-up with the U. N.

State Secretary Byrnes had insisted, however, that the security requirements of the armed forces in the Pacific could be met just as well by setting up "strategic" trusteeships under the U. N. to be administered by the United States.

One provision of his plan would enable the United States to exclude representatives of the other United Nations from certain areas in the islands designated by the United States as "closed for security reasons."

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., (AP)—The United States, facing a potentially hot debate over its offer of limited U.N. jurisdiction over Japanese-mandated Pacific islands, Thursday urged the U.N. to set up a trusteeship council immediately without injecting the veto into discussions.

One delegate said the military rights demanded by the United States were exactly the same as she would have if she annexed the islands outright.

INDIA FREES AGENTS

Expect Truman Attempt Role Of Non-Partisan President

By Peter Inglis

WASHINGTON. — Much hubbub but no serious consideration has been produced by the amazing suggestion of Democratic Senator J. William Fubright of Arkansas, backed by the New Dealish Chicago Sun, that President Truman should name a Republican secretary of state and then resign in his favor.

Washington observers suggest that the best course for Mr. Truman to adopt—and the one he probably will adopt—after his party's shattering defeat at the polls is to declare himself out of the 1948 presidential race, and then attempt to act as a non-partisan chief executive. He then would leave a domestic policy as much as possible to his Republican congress and concentrate on the country's foreign policy, on which both parties are agreed.

If Mr. Truman were a bitter man, he could effectively block all the new congress' domestic legislation through his veto power. A two-thirds majority of both houses is required to override a presidential veto—and the Republicans lack that majority unless they can bring the dissident southern Democrats into coalition with them, as they did in some issues in the last congress.

But Mr. Truman's friends are quoted as saying the president has no thought of such "reprisals" for his party's defeat and that his main interest is in preserving the nation's unified front in the foreign field.

While nobody ever has accused Mr. Truman of genius and on occasion his political judgment has been questioned, nobody ever has had occasion to cast doubt upon

Quirk of Charter Gives Poll Leader Short Term School Board Election

A judgment by Mr. Justice Ford in 1928 played an important part in Edmonton's 1946 civic election.

The judgment was on the returning officer's duty in naming south side candidates on the city council and the Edmonton public school board.

In 1928 there were six vacancies on the city council, two of them for south side candidates. One of the south side vacancies was for two years and the other for one year due to the resignation of J. C. Bowen, now Hon. J. C. Bowen, lieutenant-governor of Alberta.

In the field were C. L. Gibbs, Alfred Farmilo, J. W. Findlay and James T. Collisson, candidates for the city-at-large, and Rice Sheppard, Dr. F. A. Keillor and George W. Hazlett, south side candidates. When the official returns were announced the order of standing was: Gibbs, Keillor, Farmilo, Findlay, Sheppard, Collisson and Hazlett.

Opinions Conflict

It was ruled by officials that Dr. Keillor should get the two-year term as south side candidate as he headed the other two south side candidates, and that Mr. Sheppard should serve for one year. One of the candidates claimed Dr. Keillor should serve the two-year term as leading south side candidate, Mr. Sheppard should be declared a city-at-large candidate, and that Mr. Hazlett should be given the other south side term for one year, leaving Mr. Collisson as the defeated candidate. Mr. Hazlett was the "next in line" south side entry.

Mr. Justice Ford ruled the candidate's claim was out of order and Dr. Keillor would get the two-year term and Mr. Sheppard the one-year He also stated it was the duty of the chief returning officer to name the south side candidates before those from the city-at-large.

Similar this Year

The similarity in this year's election occurred in the public school board race. There was one south side vacancy on the board. Prof. Andrew Stewart, of the Citizens' Committee, and J. L. Morrison, of the C.D.A. slate, both working at the University of Alberta, were listed as official south side candidates.

Prof Stewart led the school board poll, ahead of James C. Macdonald, a running mate, and Mr. Morrison placed third, ahead of R. H. Rae, city contractor.

Chief Returning Officer George Docherty acted according to Mr. Justice Ford's judgment and Prof. Stewart, although he headed the poll, was given the one-year term, while Mr. Morrison will serve for two years as a city-at-large candidate.

Citizens' Committee Sweeps Council Race

By a staggering majority of 20,971 votes Mayor Harry Dean Ainlay, nominee of the Civic Democratic Alliance, was re-elected in Wednesday's civic election over his Independent opponent, Thomas J. Cairns. But, with one exception, he failed to carry his running mates into office with him.

With 24,919 or 33.7 percent of the city's qualified electors voting, the Citizens' Committee made a clean sweep of the aldermanic race and elected three out of four of its public school board candidates. The only member of Mayor Ainlay's slate to win office was J. L. Morrison, assistant professor of chemistry at the University of Alberta, who ran third in the school board contest.

The voters registered a majority in favor of daylight saving time during the summer months. In a plebiscite, 13,837 voters were for, and 10,471 against, the adoption of fast time from a date in April to a date in September.

Ald. Bowcott, Ald. Bisset, Ald. Mitchell, Ald. Parsons and Ald. Ogilvie were re-elected to two-year terms on council, while H. E. Tanner, former president of the Canadian Legion, was elected to an aldermanic seat for one year. The one-year term is due to the recent resignation of Mrs. M. E. Browne, who was elected last year on the C.D.A. slate as a south side candidate.

Mayor Ainlay, who starts his second term in office, polled 22,839 votes, more than double his total in 1945 when he defeated R. Winslow Hamilton, a Citizens' Committee candidate. Mr. Cairns, post office employe, who opposed Mayor Ainlay in this year's election, polled only 1,868 votes. It was Mr. Cairns' second defeat for the mayoralty seat in three years. In 1943 he was second to John Fry.

Official records showed the total of voters was the greatest since 1936, although the percentage votes in 1937 and 1938 were higher.

In 1936, a total of 29,300 persons, 57.8 percent of the eligible list cast ballots. In 1937, 24,279 persons voted. This was 47 percent of the

One Citizens' Committee candidate was re-elected to the public school board in Wednesday's civic balloting, and two other members of that slate were elected to give the Citizens' Committee a majority representation of five trustees to two on the board. The results gave the C.C. a three-to-one school board victory over Civic Democratic Alliance candidates.

With the exception of Mayor Ainlay's easy triumph in the contest's top race, only one Civic Democratic Alliance candidate was successful at the polls Wednesday.

Prof. Andrew Stewart, C.C., head of the political economy department of the University of Alberta, topped the school board poll, with 13,880 votes. James C. Macdonald, C.C., up for re-election, was second with 12,779 votes, while Dr. J. L. Morrison, of the university's chemistry department, successful C.D.A. candidate, stood third with 11,759 votes. Fourth was R. H. Rae, C.C., who polled 11,106 votes.

Prof. Stewart, although heading the poll, was elected for the one-year term left vacant by the death of A. E. Ottewell, a south side representative. Dr. Morrison, finishing third, was elected for two years, as the C.C.'s Prof. Stewart is a south side candidate.

Defeated school board candidates Wednesday were: Carl W. Clement,

Adoption of Daylight Time Favored by Edmonton Voters

Adoption of daylight saving time here during the summer months was favored by the majority of Edmonton voters in a plebiscite Wednesday. Total of 13,837 voted in favor of daylight saving; 10,471 were against it.

To the question, "Are you in favor of daylight saving time being put into operation in the City of Edmonton from a date in the month of April to a date in the month of September?" the ayes won by a majority of 3,366 votes.

Golfers, baseball fans, cricket players and other interested in longer hours of light during the evening turned in an empatic "Yes," while railway workers, housewives, thinking about getting the children to bed, and others answered "No."

Six Polls Against

Only six of the 61 polls in Edmonton were against the question, the majority of them being in districts where many railway workers live. Two polls returned an equal vote for and against the question.

In the Calder poll, the count for daylight saving was 165 votes, with 305 against; the north Edmonton poll showed 96 for and 129 against; the poll at Camp 550 in Calder recorded 127 for 154 against.

The poll in Alex. Taylor school showed 251 for and 275 against daylight saving time, while the skating rink poll at 69 ave. and 105 st., close to the C.P.R. shops, returned a vote of 78 for and 99 against. St. Mark's church hall poll, 111 st. and 108 ave., had a vote of 168 in favor, 175 against.

Largest In Favor

The poll in Christ church returned the largest vote in favor of daylight saving, the affirmative count being 646 and the negative 341, for a majority of 305.

The two polls recording tie votes were Poll No. 2, 13150 97 st., north of Calder, and Poll No. 56 in the Forest Heights church, 8106 104 ave.

The result will be submitted to city council in City Clerk George Docherty's election returns, and council then may instruct City Solicitor Thomas E. Garside to prepare and introduce a charter amendment covering the situation.

Jumps 4 Storeys, Albertan Ends Life

VANCOUVER, (CP)— Police said Thursday it was apparent that despondency at failure to get overseas during the war caused a 23-year-old army veteran to balance for five minutes on a fourth-storey hotel window ledge Wednesday and then jump to his death after other unsuccessful attempts at suicide.

While more than 100 watched in the street below, Stanley E. Eisenman of High River, sat on the ledge, drenched in blood from a slashed throat. Then, as a police constable grabbed him, he jumped to his death, almost pulling the constable with him.

Eisenman enlisted in Calgary early in the war and was discharged there in June, 1942 because of an asthmatic condition.

Constable Joe Cotter smashed down the door to Eisenman's room, grabbed him by an arm as he jumped and almost was pulled through the window himself. The constable's arm was skinned against the window sill.

"I couldn't hold him," said the constable, who broke down one door in the hotel before getting into the right room after seeing Eisenman standing on the sill.

Police said knotted neckties found in the room indicated the ex-army man had also tried to hang himself. On a dingy table was a rambling note: "Think of mother and dad. . . Sorry I haven't time to finish this. . ."

William Worobec who witnessed the plunge said Eisenman "pulled a white cloth over his eyes. It looked like a dish towel. When the policeman grabbed him he swung around and fell backward. He hit an electric wire and one shoe came off.

"Women were screaming.

"His head hit first—a woman in the crowd fainted."

Vote For Ainlay Sets New Record

The 22,839 votes piled up by Mayor Ainlay in Wednesday's civic election constitute a personal vote record in the history of Edmonton elections.

Nearest approach to Mayor Ainlay's land-slide victory was the 14,271 vote total recorded for Premier Manning at the last provincial general election, when the premier won one of the five Edmonton seats.

Mr. Ainlay's vote was recorded against the opposition of 1,868 votes marked for his opponent, T. J. Cairns. Mr. Cairns did better when he ran against the former Mayor Fry two years ago. At that time he was given 3,079 votes.

The only civic election mayoralty votes approaching Mayor Ainlay's record are three high personal votes recorded in 1931, 1932 and 1933 by Dan Knott. In those three successive elections Mr. Knott won 13,014, 13,682, and 13,453 respectively.

He said "the day is coming" when western Canada will produce more lamb than Canada can consume and advocated a publicity program directed to increase the consumption of that meat.

Ilsley Says Canada Prospers Despite Heavy Costs of War

OTTAWA, (CP)—Canada has achieved post-war prosperity despite her heavy financial commitments during the war, Finance Minister Ilsley said Wednesday in a radio address.

In a "report on Canada's financial and economic position," the minister made the following points:

"1. We have paid the huge cost of the war fairly, honestly and safely . . .

"2. We have put our veterans and war workers back into employment and achieved post-war prosperity . . .

"3. We are reducing taxes . . .

"4. Despite continuing war and demobilization expenditures we have made so much progress in reducing expenditures that we have a good chance this year of balancing our budget . . .

"5. We have held prices in check during and since the war. Our success in this field is well-known and acknowledged. One has only to look at what is happening in other countries to appreciate the results of our efforts in this country."

Expressing "thankfulness to the Canadian people" for their support in the government's taxation policy, Mr. Ilsley said the bulk of taxes had been on incomes, war profits and non-essentials rather than on the essentials of life.

Income taxes had been reduced by 16 percent just after the war ended and a further reduction would take effect in 1947. Excess profits taxes had been reduced in order to encourage production and employment.

"The sweeping nature of these tax reductions is being overlooked by some because the most important of them will not take effect until two months from now. At that time over 500,000 persons now paying tax will be dropped from the tax rolls altogether.

During the last year there had been some relaxation in certain controls. This had been deliberately undertaken as a matter of policy. However, it was felt that the process of de-control must be kept on an orderly basis. Canada had avoided inflation and was prepared "through floor price legislation, to avoid the kind of price collapse which dealt such a severe blow to farmers and fishermen at the end of the last war."

Jobless Insurance "Fraud" to McGeer

VANCOUVER, (CP)—Senator G. G. McGeer charged at a public meeting Wednesday night that the unemployment insurance commission was a "fraud' and said unemployment insurance deductions from wage earners should be made part of a national contributory pension plan.

"As the U.I.C. now operates the cost of unemployment is borne by workers who are not and do not expect to be out of a job," he said

He also advocated pensions for all blind persons, better wages for coal miners and continuation of the federal milk subsidy, recently dropped.

Seek Tax Relief Hospital Staffs

SASKATOON, (CP)— The Saskatchewan Hospital association Wednesday passed a resolution asking the federal government to increase the income tax exemption allowed married women on hospital staffs because many married women now employed were threatening to quit their jobs.

(A similar resolution was passed at the annual convention of the Manitoba Hospitals association at Winnipeg last week).

"Unless married women are kept in employment (in hospitals) I don't see how hospitals can carry on," Dr. Harvey Agnew of Toronto, secretary of the Canadian Hospital council, told the Saskatchewan delegates.

U.S. to Open Trial Of 22 Nazi Doctors

NUERNBERG, (AP) — U. S. prosecuting officers said Thursday a new series of American-conducted war crimes trials involving 22 german doctors, including one of Hitler's personal physicians, who had been indicted for offences against humanity, are expected to begin in about a month.

Many defendants are charged with conducting experiments on concentration camp prisoners and the mass extermination of "useless eaters"—people who were insane or otherwise helpless.

Among the physicians to be tried are:

Karl Gebhardt, president of the German Red Cross, an S.S. (elite guard) general and personal physician to Himmler.

Karl Brandt, formerly Hitler's physician, who was a general in the health and sanitation.

Idaho Democrats All Are Defeated

BOISE, Idaho, (AP)—Rep. Compton I. White, Democrat, 69-year-old veteran who has represented northern Idaho in congress for 14 years, became the last Idaho Democrat to go down to defeat in major races Thursday. He lost to Abe McGregor Goff, Repulican.

Rep. Henry Dworshak, Republican, who also has been in congress since 1932, was elected United States senator, John Sanborn, Republican, won the Second district congressional tussle and Dr. C. A. Robins, Republican, was elected governor.

SIOUX FALLS, S.D., (AP)— A complete Republican picture in South Dakota was established, with only a few scattered precincts unreported early Thursday, but some post-election fireworks were promised over the electors' wishes on a constitutional amendment.

Labor leaders claimed the anti-closed shop amendment adopted by more than two-to-one margin was unconstitutional.

Attorney-General George T. Mickelson was elected governor by a two-to-one majority, and Congressmen Karl Mundt of the First district and Francis Case of the Second district were re-elected by large margins.

CHEYENNE, Wyo., (AP)—Wyoming returned to office its Democrat United States Senator Joseph C. O'Mahoney, Republican Rep. Frank A. Barrett and Democratic Governor Lester C. Hunt. Republicans won four of the five elective state offices. Senator O'Mahoney was a Roosevelt supporter.

Elected School Board Wednesday

A. STEWART

J. C. MACDONALD

J. L. MORRISON

R. H. RAE

Four men pictured above were elected as public school board trustees in Wednesday's civic voting. James C. Macdonald successfully sought re-election to the board on which he served the past two years. The others are newcomers to that body. Prof. Andrew Stewart headed the school board voting with 13,880 votes. Close behind him were Dr. J. L. Morrison and R. H. Rae. Dr. Morrison was the only Civic Democratic Alliance candidate to win election to the board. The others were nominees of the Citizens' Committee.

eligible. In 1938, 43.8 percent, or 23,599 persons cast ballots. In 1945 there was a 28.3 percent vote, and in the two years previous, the percentages were 16.3 and 14.2, respectively.

Officials said Wednesday the plebiscite gave added interest to this year's election and additional polls made it more convenient for hundreds of citizens to cast their ballots. Thirteen additional polls were added this year and persons in hospitals also were given a vote.

Ninety-two persons took advantage of the advance poll last Friday and Saturday, while 125 persons exercised their franchise in city hospitals.

1,550 Rejected Ballots

The rejected or spoiled ballots Wednesday totalled 1,550. Greatest number of these were in the election for public school board candidates and on the plebiscite. The school board total was 470 and the plebiscite 472. In the mayoralty race, 212 ballots were rejected, and in the aldermanic, 406.

Mayor Ainlay's popularity held good in every one of the 60 regular polls as well as in the advance and hospital polls. Mr. Cairns was unable to reach three figures in a single poll although he came close with 99 votes at the big poll at Mills Motors, 109 st. and Jasper ave. In that poll Mr. Ainlay got one of his heaviest votes with 904 ballots in his favor.

Mr. Ainlay's top poll was No. 31 at Christ church hall, 12120 102 ave. He received 934 votes there to his opponent's 61. The mayor's home poll at Garneau Community hall helped his cause with 617 to 21 the count. Mr. Cairns' fared little better at his home poll when he added 16 to his tally while the mayor counted 237.

Trend Represented

The advance poll pretty well represented the trend when Mr. Ainlay received 84 votes and Mr. Cairns received four. The smallest mayoralty voting was at Walterdale church, 9016 106 st., where the mayor received 34 of the 38 votes cast.

At some of the polls where Mr. Ainlay received strongest support his aldermanic running mates on the C.D.A. slate took their worst thumpings. At the Christ church poll, where the mayor's stock soared sharply, Citizens' Committee candidates outdid their C.D.A. rivals by about six-to-one. At two Garneau polls the C.C. aldermanic slate again took big margins.

Calder Community hall produced the sharpest jump for C.D.A. nominees. They enjoyed a three-to-one edge there. Some of the downtown polls like those at the market square and Alex Taylor school produced almost an even split among candidates of the two contesting groups.

Gwynne Heads Most Polls

Honor of heading more individual polls than any other candidate went to Percy Gwynne although he ended the race defeated. He enjoyed a lead—slight in many cases—in 19 polls. Next came Ald. Bisset as top man in 14, then Ald. Bowcott who led 13; Mr. Finnemore in six; Mr. Tanner in four and Mrs. Rogers in three.

Mr. Gwynne headed polls in Ritchie, Cloverdale and Cromdale districts, at Alex. Taylor school, Alberta ave. and North Edmonton polls. He also had 69 votes to top the hospital balloting in which Mr. Bowcott was a close second with 68. The advance poll was headed by Ald. Bisset with 68 votes.

Largest single vote given any aldermanic candidate at one poll was credited to Mr. Bisset. He scored 812 at the Christ church hall poll. Lowest single vote went to Mrs. Kiniski, who had four ballots marked for her in McKernan lake community.

Official Declaration

Official declaration of the results of the 1946 election was made at noon Friday by Chief Returning Officer George Docherty in the council chamber. The first meeting of the new council will be at 2:00 p.m. Saturday.

The aldermen remaining in office for another year are: James Douglas, C. E. Gariepy and Jack Munro who were nominated by the Citizens' Committee, and J. B. Gillies, by the Civic Democratic Alliance.

The remaining school board trustees are Mrs. M. E. Butterworth and F. Armour Ford ,of the Citizens' Committee, and Mrs. Elizabeth S. Haynes, of the C.D.A.

The Citizens' Committee candidates now hold a nine-to-one majority on the city council, and a five-to-two majority on the public school board.

The official count of the 1946 election was not known until 3:15 a.m. Thursday at the city hall when a large staff of calculators had compiled their returns after working for slightly more than six hours.

C.C., 10,590; W. W. R. Boyes, C.D.A., 9,639; and John Moon, C.D.A. 8,650

The four successful candidates join Mrs. M. E. Butterworth, C.C., F. Armour Ford, C.C., and Mrs. E. S. Haynes, C.D.A., to complete the school board.

The separate school board was elected by acclamation. A. J. Crowe was elected for a two-year term for the south side, while W. C. Bateman received a one-year term to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of W. J. Wilde. James O'Hara and F. J. Killeen were elected for two-year terms.

City Clerk George Docherty's ruling that Prof. Stewart is elected to the public school board for one year follows a decision given by Mr. Justice Frank Ford in the 1928 elections

In that case, Rice Sheppard protested against receiving a one-year term when he was second in the aldermanic race. The ruling was that under the terms of the city charter, the city clerk first must declare south side candidates elected before dealing with other successful candidates.

While he finished in third place, Dr. Morrison led the seven public school board candidates in 29 of the 61 polls. He was beaten by large majorities rolled up for Citizens' Committee candidates in Garneau, Glenora and other west end polls.

Prof. Stewart led in 24 polls, and Mr. Macdonald in seven. Mr. Moon topped his home poll.

Four hundred and seventy public school ballots were rejected or spoiled.

Utah Republican Leads by 6 Votes

SALT LAKE CITY, (AP)—David J. Wilson Thursday held the lead—by six votes— in Utah's race for for First district congressman, but neither he nor Rep. Walter K. Granger (Dem., Utah), his opponent, will find out for sure whether he won until Nov. 25.

On that date the state will make its official canvass of votes and the outcome of the contest—and other official results of the Tuesday voting—will be known.

Unofficial returns Thursday gave Wilson 44,728 votes to 44,722 for Granger with 500 of the district's 507 precincts reported.

Otherwise there was no change in results of the other contests, in which Republicans scored a triumph in all other national offices, won a majority in the Utah house of representatives and made substantial gains in the senate as well as winning many local contests.

Truman to Attempt Non-Partisan Rule

his courage, his integrity or his intense consciousness of the role the United States must play on the world stage.

Fair Trial Likely

Therefore it appears that a situation which could prove chaotic if a vindictive man were in the White House actually will turn into a satisfactory working arrangement under which Republican domestic policies will be given a fair trial.

As for the suggestion that Mr. Truman resign, there is no precedent in the history of this republic for such a course. There have been occasions when presidents, in the last years of their terms, have been almost incapacitated by illness—but none has quit.

Republican Leader Calls Congressmen's Meeting

WASHINGTON, (CP) — Republicans Thursday prepared to march in triumph on Washington's Capitol hill next Jan. 3 and take control of the United States senate and house of representatives which they won in Tuesday's congressional elections.

They were certain of 51 seats in the senate, a majority of two, and of 246 seats in the house where a majority is 218.

Scattered returns still to be counted could increase those majorities but were unlikely to decrease them.

Jubilant in victory, the house Republican leader, Joseph Martin of Massachusetts, immediately called for a meeting in Washington Dec. 2 of all successful house candidates, to plan a program and arrange the changeover. The party's house steering committee will meet in Washington Nov. 18.

"We will take the government out of the people's hair and put it in their hands," he said.

But the legislative program for the next two years still rests largely in the hands of President Truman and his Democratic appointees in the cabinet.

The president still retains considerable executive power over and above congress, and he has the power of veto.

The situation will be as unpleasant as it is undesirable but it is not new. Republican President Herbert Hoover faced it in the last two years of his regime—1931 and 1932.

The Republican torrent Tuesday swept Democrats from power in such key states as New York, Pennsylvania, Massachusetts, Ohio, Illinois, California and Mr. Truman's own Missouri.

Republicans not only won a victory that in some districts assumed landslide proportions, but they set up a string of well-supported contenders for presidential nomination in the 1948 elections.

These are Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, ex-Gov. John Bricker of Ohio, a senatorial candidate this time, and Senator Vandenberg. All got big majorities.

See U.S., Canada Stand Unchanged

By Clyde Blackburn

NEW YORK, (CP)—The change of congressional control from Democratic to Republican hands should have little immediate effect upon Canadian-American relations, nor interfere with any outstanding negotiations between the two countries.

Only major question at issue between the two countries at the moment, so far as it has been disclosed, are the St. Lawrence river power and seaway project and co-operation in defence of the continent in the Arctic.

The seaway's greatest protagonist in the senate is George Aiken of Vermont, a republican, and it is known that Governor Dewey of New York, nominal leader of the Republican party, generally favors it.

Northern defence operations are largely in the discussion stage and are not likely to go before congress at an early date.

In any event the Democrats still control the administration and the president has power to veto or shelve measures passed in congress, at least twice.

His veto can be defeated by a two-thirds vote in each house but that would be difficult to get on a party basis in the 80th congress as it was in one ending Jan. 3, because the margin of difference in strength is so close.

Now the Republicans can control both houses without any aid from the Democrats they may veer away from congress coalition and similiarly the southern Democrats may cleave closer to what of their northern and western colleagues remain, to bring a return to solid, two-party operation of congress.

With a presidential election only two years away the Republicans in both houses probably will feel their way carefully, attempt to do everything to keep the international applecart upright and cautiously build their plans for the 1948 campaign.

Hay fever, hives and allergic skin eruptions, but not asthma, have been treated successfully with a new drug called benadryl, Dr. Scarlett said.

Want Ban Lifted On Export Barley

CALGARY, (CP)—Opposition to the application of the Canadian Railways association for an over-all 30 percent increase in freight rates was expressed here Wednesday in a resolution passed at the two-day annual meeting of the United Grain Growers Ltd. The railways have made the application to the board of transport commissioners.

In other resolutions, the U.G.G demanded the removal of present restrictions on the export of malting barley, and endorsed the position taken by the company respecting income tax and the exemption of patronage dividends.

R. S. Law of Winnipeg, U.G.G. president was tendered a vote of thanks from 300 delegates, who expressed satisfaction with the position of the company on the occasion of it's 40th anniversary.

H. H. Hannam, president of the Canadian Federation of agriculture, in an address stressed the need for a satisfactory balance between agriculture and labor in the Canadian economy. Admitting that a rigid formula of party prices was impracticable he declared that agricultural price levels must be protected in the future by the government. That need would become more important with any rise in agricultural production costs occasioned by recent advances in labor wages or by any early removal of existing price controls.

Republicans Win Washington State

SEATTLE, (AP) — Sparked by Harry P. Cain, former Tacoma mayor, the Republicans took over almost completely Wednesday night in Washington state's congressional election after 14 years in the minority party role.

Cain led the incumbent Democratic United States senator, Hugh B. Mitchell, by 40,000 votes with 700 precincts out of 3,375 yet to report.

The Republicans won five of the state's six congressional seats.

Rep. Henry Jackson of Everett became the sole Democratic spokesman from Washington in the new house of representatives, defeating Payson Peterson of Snohomish.

HELENA, Mont., (AP) — Late Montana election returns Wednesday night gave Republican candidate Ecton a United States senatorship assured re-election of Republican Rep. Wesley A. d'Ewart and Democratic Congressman Mike Mansfield.

Results from sparsely settled counties built conclusive leads for the three, particularly for Ecton, a conservative southwest Montana farmer and veteran state legislator, who soundly defeated Leif Erickson, victor over Senator Burton K. Wheeler in the July Democratic primary.

With 1,007 of the state's 1,156 precincts unofficially reported, Ecton was 15,000 votes ahead of Erickson.

Ecton will be Montana's first G.O.P. senator since 1912.

Swift End Wartime Controls Is Big Issue Facing Congress

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The swift end of wartime controls over the economy of the United States and legislative proposals intended to ease management—labor friction shaped up Thursday as the biggest issues facing the newly elected Republican-dominated congress—the first since 1931.

The Republicans hold no illusion that it will be easy to put their program, when finally formulated, into effect. A Democratic president still sits in the White House Hence they either must persuade President Truman to accept that program, or try to crack his vetoes (by a two-thirds vote) when and as they come.

Great problems confront the new congress. International understanding—and misunderstandings — will shadow many a move. In that setting, the legislators must make decisions on such issues as:

To Continue Draft

1. Continuation of the draft, due to expire next March 15. Tied in closely with this problem is the administration's insistence on a permanent compulsory military training program.

2. Merger of the army and navy—another administration "must" item despite sharp opposition from the sea arm itself.

3. Stepping up the housing program—a major need particularly for veterans.

4. Reduction of taxes from high, wartime levels.

Rep. Joe Martin (Rep., Mass.) likely speaker of the new house of representatives, has given No. 1 listing on his program to stripping away wartime powers from the executive branch so that "these United States will return to constitutional government."

Can Help Farmers

The Republican resurgence gives that party a loud voice in helping shape government agricultural programs at a time when farming is appoaching the crossroads of production and marketing theories.

Republicans through the party's 1944 platform and through speeches made later by their farm-minded leaders declare they will oppose vigorously any return to control measures and subsidies.

They have said they will sponsor methods designed to expand markets and use for agriculture's full productive capacity rather than programs curtailing production.

3 States Vote Ban Closed Shop

WASHINGTON, (AP) — Voters in three states in Tuesday's congressional elections also voted to outlaw the closed shop.

The vote in Nebraska to outlaw the closed shop was 173,029 for and 120,734 against, in returns from 1,631 of 2,053 precincts. South Dakota, in 761 precincts, registered 30,471 votes for the amendment and 12,923 against. Arizona's anti-closed shop vote was 36,337 for and 27,663 against in 351 of all 432 precincts.

Under a closed shop, all workers in a plant are required to belong to a union or lose their jobs. Anti-closed shop proposals usually state that the right to work shall not be denied because of membership or non-membership in a union.

Republican Judge Easy on Democrat

PORTLAND, Ore., (AP)— A motorist, appearing before Municipal Judge John B. Seabrook, glumly admitted he disregarded a traffic signal. The judge, a Republican in a cheery mood, asked what he thought of the election.

The motorist was brief: "I'm a Democrat."

"I guess you got enough of a beating Tuesday," declared the judge. "Sentence suspended."

Civilian Workers Near Five Million

OTTAWA, (CP) — Canada's civilian labor force totalled 4,977,000 persons Aug. 31 compared with 4,828,000 June 1, the dominion bureau of statistics reported in its quarterly survey.

The force, persons working or seeking work, showed an increase of 149,000 over the previous survey and about 450,000 over the February survey. The figures also showed a decrease in unemployment from 126,000 June 1 to 117,000 Aug. 31.

Increase was principally accounted for by students entering the labor market during the summer vacation, and by return of discharged military personnel.

Most of the increase occurred in non-agricultural industries, where the labor pool was estimated at 3,658,000 compared with 3,551,000 at the last survey. However, the agricultural force was 1,319,000—well above the 1,277,000 of June 1.

The report showed an increase in the numbers employed in every section of Canada, the largest increases in Ontario and Quebec. Employment by districts, with figures for June 1 in brackets: Maritimes 423,000 (414,000); Quebec 1,330,000 (1,289,000; Ont. 1,673,000 (1,618,000); Prairies 1,041,000 (1,007,000); British Columbia 393,000 (374,000).

Numbers of unemployed, with June 1 figures bracketed: Maritimes 2,000 (21,000); Quebec 42,000 (44,000); Ontario 36,000 (33,000); Prairies, 11,000 (15,000); British Columbia 8,000 (13,000).

See Republican Win Bringing Stiff Attitude Toward Russia

LONDON, (AP)—Foreign newspapers, while agreeing generally that Tuesday's Republican landslide in the United States constituted a rebuff to President Truman, predicted Thursday that the election results would be reflected abroad in a stiffenening attitude toward Russia.

In Moscow, the Communist party newspaper Pravda said, "He who squandered the political capital acquired by Roosevelt naturally cannot receive interest on this capital."

"The elections revealed that the so-called 'two-party policy' (of unanimity in foreign relations) which the successors to Roosevelt claimed as one of their meritorious accomplishments is pure illusion," the commentary said.

"Exposed Illusion"

"The Republicans exposed this illusion and proved that authorizing and drafting of the present foreign policy of the U.S.A. really belongs to them (the Republicans.)"

In Paris, President Bidault's party organ, interpreted the results of the polling as a vote "for Byrnes against Wallace."

The "Munich-like proposals" of Henry Wallace, former secretary of commerce, were "in great part responsible for the defeat of the Democratic party," it said.

Like most French papers it viewed the G.O.P. triumph as a reinforcement of a stiffened United States attitude toward Russia.

The major Russian-controlled newspapers in Berlin relegated the election news to their back pages without editorial comment.

"Dollar Democracy"

Communist newspapers in France described the election results as a victory for "dollar democracy" and "atomic diplomacy."

The Communist L'Humanite referred to New York's Gov. Thomas E. Dewey as "the Fascist candidate for the presidency of the United States."

In Copenhagen, the agrarian government party's organ commented that "Moscow's interference in the elections . . . possibly gathered voters around the Republicans" and predicted "severe unrest in American policy."

Australian newspapers took a similar line.

In London, the Conservative Spectator said there was reason to fell "uneasy" about the Republican sweep but cautioned against "despair" and against indulging the belief that the United States was giving up world leadership.

In this latter opinion, the Spectator's views paralleled many British newspapers, but the Irish press, in general, took a pesimistic view of the Republican victory. Prime Minister de Valera's Irish Press commented, for example, that United States "capacity to take action either at home or abroad has been gravely crippled."

Jimmy Garvin, 13, of Washington, D.C., doesn't take any ribbing about his long, curly tresses from other youngsters. He's handy with his fists and usually they find out their mistake in short order. He hates barbers and haircuts, wants to be a baseball star.

Think Vote May Upset Relations with Soviet

By John M. Hightower

NEW YORK, (AP)—The Republican election triumph was interpreted Thursday by diplomatic authorities in this temporary "world capital" as having at least three different impacts on American foreign relations:

1. It apparently makes Senator Arthur Vandenberg (Rep. Mich.) the strong man of the American delegations to both the council of foreign ministers' meetings on the European peace treaties and to United Nations assembly.

2. Despite the bi-partisan nature of American foreign policy, foreign diplomats here now are uncertain as to exactly how American relations will develop when the Republicans have domination of congress.

3. The delicate balance of relations between the United States and Russia particularly may be upset at least for a time, by the sweep to power of a political party which has made issue over domestic Communism and which the controlled Moscow press had opposed.

In the main, the basic view of delegations here appeared to be that the shift of congressional power would not now have results nearly as far-reaching as if it had occurred even two years ago.

Pupils Pick Beets, Aid Sugar Harvest

LETHBRIDGE, (CP)— About 20,000 tons of sugar beets buried by a heavy snowstorm in southern Alberta nearly two weeks ago were reported harvested Wednesday. The beets represent about 4,000,000 pounds of sugar.

Hundreds of workers, including high school students, are working in the muddy fields to harvest 70,000 tons of beets, potential source of some 21,000,000 pounds of sugar, still remaining in the ground.

Before the storm struck, it was estimated that southern Alberta's 1946 sugar beet crop would amount to 385,000 tons—good for 115,000,000 pounds of sugar for Canadian housewives.

Cheques amounting to $1,744,000 went into the mails Wednesday to more than 1,000 sugar beet growers in the Lethbridge district. The cheques represent an initial payment of $8 a ton on sugar beets delivered to the processing company before Oct. 20.

A total of 218,000 tons of beets were delivered before the cut-off date.

Refinery officials said beets processed to date at the Raymond and Picture Butte plants averaged 17 percent in sugar content. Officials said this percentage was expected to increase.

Following the storm, refineries offered a premium of 75 cents a ton to growers for beets harvested under sub-normal conditions. Offered an all-time high of $2.30 a ton for harvesting, large numbers of workers responded to farmers' appeals for labor in the beet fields. Main body of workers is made up of Japanese evacuees and German prisoners of war.

More than 90 Lethbridge high school students started work in the fields Thursday, while scores of men have been recruited in Lethbridge for the job.

Most of the two-foot snowfall has disappeared leaving fields muddy and generally too soft for use of machinery.

B. C. Mine Strike Reported Settled

VANCOUVER, (CP) — Agreement has been announced on the terms of a new contract between the management of Hedley Mascot Mines Ltd., and the policy committee of the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers (C.I.O.-C.C.L.) in the first major break in the five-month long British Columbia gold miners' strike involving 1,000 miners.

Actual terms of the agreement have not been divulged pending the approval of the firm's board of governors and the union's local at the mine. The board met Thursday to consider tentative arrangements and the union local meets Sunday to vote on the question.

It is indicated that the agreement contains a considerable increase in wages from the original recommendation of Chief Justice Sloan, government-appointed conciliator. The original report was rejected on the grounds that the basic wage increases were too low.

Sarcees Will Meet To Choose Chief

CALGARY, (CP)—The son of an Indian Chief no longer is his automatic successor and it will be sometime before the new head chief of the Sarcee Indians is named, it was learned Thursday.

The head chief, Joe Big Plume, died recently.

According to G. Goodherman, inspector of Indian agencies at Calgary, the first step in the Sarcees getting a new head chief will be the holding of a tribal meeting at which they will make a selection.

The name will be submitted to the inspector and from his office will be sent with a report to the department of Indian affairs at Ottawa. Provided he is then passed by an order-in-council the Indian chosen by Sarcees will be named chief.

200 Canadians Each Month Return to Live in Britain

By Frank Swanson

LONDON.—Two hundred Canadian ex-servicemen monthly are crossing the Atlantic with the idea of settling in the British Isles.

This is an unofficial estimate of shipping authorities, veterans' affairs officials and Canadian military headquarters in London, who reported Canadians who have decided to remain in this country number between 4,000 and 5,000.

The traffic is not one-way, though. Between 80 and 90 veterans each month who were discharged in England are returning to the dominion. More than 3,000 Canadian soldiers took their discharges in Britain

Many Takes Studies

According to Lt.-Col. Alan Chambers of Victoria, overseas director of the department of veterans' affairs, many are men who desired to undertake post-graduate studies in this country and will return later to Canada.

But most are men who, for personal reasons or because they had been offered jobs here, decided to apply for discharge overseas. Discharge overseas was deliberately made as difficult as possible to discourage a repetition of what happened after the First Great War when 32,000 servicemen were discharge here. Of this number between 10,000 and 12,000 are still here.

"Rooted" in Britain

The reasons Canadians who have gone home want to return to Britain are numerous in the eyes of officials here. One is that Canadians were stationed here so long during the war that many "took root". Many married here and went home to Canada to straighten out personal affairs before returning to take up permanent residence.

Many technicians in the army and air force had offers of jobs during their stay in the British Isles and, finding their old jobs at home unsuitable or filled by someone else, have decided to return to go into business here.

Canadian ex-servicemen overseas are getting the same treatment as regards veterans benefits as soldiers at home—with the exception that rehabilitation credits may not be used outside of Canada.

Declares Russia Will Strive Untiringly for Lasting Peace

LONDON, (CP) — In a speech marking the 29th anniversary of the Bolshevist revolution, Marshal Leonid A. Govorov declared in Moscow that Russia would "fight untiringly for a lasting, stable and democratic peace."

The 49-year-old hero of Leningrad told a great crowd assembled in Red square that Russia could not fail in the fight because she "enjoys the support and sympathy of the wide masses of the people throughout the world."

"That is why," he declared, "despite the intrigues of the forces of world reaction, the cause of democratic peace must triumph."

Precedes Long Parade

Govorov's speech, broadcast by the Moscow radio, preceded the customary hours-long parade through Red square by massed ranks of soldiers and workers.

The broadcast account of the proceedings did not indicate whether Prime Minister Stalin—usually the central figure on these occasions—was present. The annual policy declaration, was delivered in the Bolshoi theatre Wednesday night by Gen. Andrei A. Zhdanov, a secretary of the Communist party and chairman of the supreme soviet.

The Times of London speculated Thursday that it was "perhaps on medical advice" that Stalin did not deliver his usual address, but did not elaborate.

"Honest Co-operation"

Govorov, who occupied the place of honor in the reviewing stand during the parade, declared that "by its foreign policy our state is untiringly and consistently defending the principles of honest co-operation between nations."

"This policy," he said, "corresponds not only to the basic interests of the peoples of our motherland but also to the strivings and the hopes of the peoples of all countries."

Govorov called attention to the fact that Russia's armed forces had been "considerably reduced" by recent demobilization orders, but declared they constituted "a reliable guard for the security of the motherland and a reliable bulwark of peace throughout the world."

Moscow radio said a number of messages of greeting had been received from the heads of various countries, including President Truman, Prime Minister Attlee and Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek.

France and Austria Sign Trade Treaty

PARIS, (AP) — A one-year French-Austrian trade agreement was signed Thursday at the foreign office. Under its terms France will export cars, steel products, chemical products and radio equipment worth $7,500,000 in return for Austrian exports of wood, magnesium, machines and prefabricated houses totalling $8,333,000.

Lucius D. Clay of the work of German de-Nazification courts, German governmental officials said Wednesday.

The Edmonton Elections

The outcome of Edmonton's civic elections was rather a foregone conclusion so far as the city council was concerned. Mayor Ainlay was returned by a tremendous majority. All the retiring aldermen were re-elected.

This is direct and impressive taxpayer approval of the administrative record of the year. It is equally an endorsation of the forward-looking plans which have been announced for the orderly development of the city and the improvement of its streets and public places. The verdict is a mandate to council to carry on this program according to schedule, on the scale of a full year's constructive effort.

Four vacancies had to be filled on the public school board. Only one of the retiring trustees stood for re-election, Mr. James C. Macdonald. He was returned. The three new members are all well known citizens, drawn from a wide range of training and experience, and well qualified to maintain the best traditions of the board at a time when its duties will be more than usually heavy and important.

The growing city requires growing school facilities. Schools must be built and enlarged rather in advance of current needs than after these have become urgent. Added to the ordinary responsibilities of the trustees will be that of directing and supervising a construction program comparable to that which the city council has drafted.

Yoked Together

For the next two years the United States will be governed by a Democratic administration yoked together with a Republican legislature.

It is a situation which could not arise in Canada, nor in Great Britain. Under our parliamentary system the executive is composed wholly of members of the two houses and ceases to hold office when it no longer is supported by a majority in the Commons. But in the United States the President is the executive, holds office without regard to the complexion of Congress, and the members of his cabinet are not members of either house.

How the Democratic "mule" and the Republician "elephant" will get along in double harness is a question which only the future can answer. Obviously they can only pull together by compromise. Neither will be able to choose the direction and set the pace without reference to the wishes and traditional bent of the other. That either will find the arangement altogether happy is beyond hope. Precedent gives no promise that it will work to the satisfaction of the public. A deadlock—with resulting stagnation—is not impossible.

But it is improbable, the circumstances taken into account. The "good old days" have gone when nobody need care about reactions beyond the national borders and political battles could be fought with sole concern for conditions at home and the cultivation of voter-approval. Like every other country, the United States is now consciously a part of the world. Responsible men, on whichever side, are not likely to forget this or fail to temper their views in consideration of the critical—and very sensitive—state of world affairs.

It is a matter of supreme importance that the foreign policy of the great republic is not involved in the shift of party control of the Congress, at least in major isues. The principles which Mr. Byrnes has been proclaiming in international conferences were not principles espoused by the Democratic party only. One of his advisors at Paris was Senator Vandenberg, a stalwart Republican, who affirmed the views set forth by Mr. Byrnes in language no less clear-cut and forceful.

If anywhere there have been hopes or fears that President Truman would in future have to face world problems while his policy was under attack in Congress, they can be dismissed. The Republicans stand committed to the same course. They are equally bound to make the United Nations plan work.

There is of course less certainty about the effect of the upset on international trade. The Republican party is by tradition associated with a protective tariff. But, again, the circumstances of the time may counsel moderation. That is to be hoped.

It is hardly questioned now in any quarter that trade barriers must be kept low if international commerce is to flow freely; nor that unless it does flow freely there cannot be the widespread contentment necessary to cultivate friendship among all peoples and thus create the atmosphere for enduring peace. There is reason to suppose that the Republican leaders recognize these facts and will shape the party policy in keeping with them.

The Cost of Living

Everyone knows that there have been serious increases in the Canadian cost of living. Nevertheless, the overall increase has been exaggerated by citing the higher prices of foodstuffs and clothing without reference to the prices of other commodities.

The relation between rising food costs and other costs is shown in the following table of cost-of-living increase over August of 1939:—

	Foods Alone	All Items
October, 1941	24.1%	14.6%
January, 1946	33.7	18.9
March, 1946	34.0	19.1
June, 1946	43.1	22.6
September, 1946	44.2	24.5

It is to be noted that by October of 1941, when price control was established, foods had already advanced more than 24 per cent in price, while the general cost of living had advanced by more than 14½ per cent.

It is not fair to say therefore, that the percentage increases shown above have taken place in spite of price control.

A fairer picture of the price rises is revealed in the following table in which the date of price control is taken as a basis. This shows the cost-of-living increase over October of 1941:—

	Foods Alone	All Items
January, 1946	7.8%	3.8%
March, 1946	8.0	4.0
June, 1946	15.3	7.0
September, 1946	16.2	8.7

Price control very definitely has had a beneficial effect. In five years under control prices have increased little more than half as much as they did in the first two war years without control.

Immigration

The only positive step towards an active immigration policy taken by Canada since before the beginning of the war has been the admission of 4,000 Polish farm laborers who, having fallen foul of the Soviet-controlled government of Poland, are afraid to return to their own country.

Meanwhile certain illuminating figures with regard to Canadian emigration have been released. It appears that during the 12 months of 1945-46 ending June 30, more than 18,000 native-born Canadians became permanent residents of the United States.

Of this number 6,395 were professional people, business executives, clerks and skilled workers.

It is a peculiar situation, to say the least, that when Canada pours 4,000 Polish laborers into the top of the population hopper, 18,000 native-born should leak out at the bottom. Our immigration policy cannot be said to be a profitable one under those circumstances.

It seems to be time for a very careful consideration of the whole business of population movement, taking emigration as well as immigration factors into account.

JO Has That Wool

By Elmore Philpott

The cold pre-winter winds drove down from the Gatineau hills this week and sent shoppers into Ottawa stores hunting for woolies. But in the capital of Canada as everywhere in America there is an acute scarcity of woolens. The yarns for knitting are coming again. You can buy girls' high-priced sweaters but not the rougher-tougher kind for boys.

If you can find a decent man's suit of pre-war quality at any price you are a lucky fellow—so lucky that you gladly pay from sixty to a hundred percent more than you did in 1939. The catch is—the woolen goods just aren't on shop shelves.

* * *

NOT FAR FROM Parliament Hill officials from different ends of the earth are busy applying policies that are literally poles apart.

The Canadian Wartime Prices and Trade Board is still in there battling inflation—but with only one eye open—only one arm in action. Its main efforts have been to keep costs and wages down. But it has failed entirely to open its other eye—failed entirely to go into action to make goods more plentiful.

Just a stone's throw from Canada's WPTB are the offices of the United Kingdom, Australia, New Zealand and South Africa. I visited some of these today and confirmed that they have "frozen" in storage the largest accumulation of wool ever gathered in all the history of the human race. It represents well over two years' average world crop of wool—to be specific, it is 4015 million of pounds.

* * *

They used to sell the best Scotch wool blankets by the pound. If you wanted the cheapest you got the nine-pound-a-pair kind. If you wanted the best, they might run twelve or thirteen pounds a pair.

Thus the present huge surplus of wool would be enough to give to each and every one of Europe's 400 millions of shivering human beings one pair of ten-pound blankets. If you did that there would not be any wool-surplus problem. But that is the direct way minds work in these twisted times.

* * *

...THE AUSTRALIAN high commissioner's office in Ottawa keeps a printed statement which tells how much wool there is, why it is being kept there, and how long it will take to dribble it into world markets under the present plans.

The recent war stopped the normal outlets for British woolen goods. On June 30, 1945, the British government owned 3315 million pounds stored as follows.

In Dominions	2480 million lbs.
In U. K.	480 million lbs.
In U. S.	355 million lbs.

The U. S. owned 200 million lbs. Latin America had 500 million lbs. In the pre-war period the average annual production from all the countries, Australia, New Zealand, and South Africa, Argentina and Uruguay was 2226 million lbs. Of this, 139 millions were consumed in the countries of origin, leaving a net world surplus for export of 1880 million lbs.

The British countries concerned set up a so-called joint organization which has a plan to release the huge surplus wool stocks over a period of thirteen years.

* * *

THE AUSTRALIAN statement makes no bones about the purpose of the plan. It says: "The primary purpose is, of course, to interpose a buffer in the market in order to prevent as far as possible the catastrophic fall in prices which were an unfortunate feature of the pre-war period. . .It was obvious that. . . .if the wool stocks were placed on the market in excessively large quantities, prices would be depressed unduly"

Hence the joint organization has set up machinery to prevent sale of any wool, new clip or old, under certain floor prices.

There is nothing wrong with this aim. But whether the JO plan is the best possible one for consumer countries, as well as for producers, is another matter.

Surely a better plan would have been to do for wool what Mr. LaGuardia and Sir John Orr recommended to the World Food Congress. That is, internationally guaranteed markets for all farm products at or above levels fixed when crops are sown.

And in any event—there should be a getting together between Donald Gordon—trying to keep prices down—and the JO world organization which is trying to keep wool prices up.

Dangerous Demagoguery

By Dorothy Thompson

On Sunday night, Max Lerner, a supporter of Henry Wallace, said: "The republicans have quite generally introduced the issue of Communism, which simply does not exist as an issue in America.

THOMPSON

On Sunday night, speaking at a rally in Brooklyn, Henry Wallace said: "If the Republicans triumph the day after tomorrow the whole world will take it as a sign that America has gone reactionary. All over the world countries where there are needy millions will turn toward Russia for guidance...

"Unless the American capitalist system is so modified that it can produce abundance for all, America will go communist. Communism will be a certainty if the republicans come to full power."

* * *

SO IT SEEMS that, contrary to Mr. Lerner, communsim is an issue in America — an issue in American foreign and domestic policy. None other than Mr. Wallace has given notice that a Republican victory would cause all the world to turn to Russia—and that the reaction against the Republicans would be Communism in America.

If this be so we may expect Russian world domination, and a communized America. For as things look now—with election returns not yet quite complete—the Republicans have won, curiously enough by the vote of the majority — Mr. Wallace's "common men".

* * *

THE AMERICAN PEOPLE, as a whole, are turning more conservative than they have been in a long time. They are turning more conservative because under the present administration the country is practically without government. They are profoundly dissatisfied with present conditions of economic chaos and believe that labor policies have become self-defeating, paralyzing to production, contributory to inflation, impoverishing of workers, and fatal to social order.

Mr. Wallace is correct in fearing that the tide will swing too far, leading to inevitable reactions in turn.

But it is highly significant that Mr Wallace is, in effect, threatening the nation with Communism, if a Republican victory follows the policies or has the results which he predicts as "certain". In effect he says, that if World-Communism follows, it will serve America right. It will be "inevitable." It will, in fact, be justified.

* * *

THIS IS EXTREMELY dangerous talk.

Communism will never come to America as it has never come anywhere by legal constitutional procedures, by free elections, by the will of the majority. If it comes here, it will come, as it has everywhere else, by a direct or indirect coup d'etat either by the capture of the government from within by persons voted into power under quite other mandates—voted in for instance as "liberals," when they are actually fronts for totalitarian socialists: or by direct action, not necessarily against the government, but against the economic life of the nation—by general strikes paralyzing the economy and necessitating such drastic state action as will divide the nation into warring camps. The preface to communism is civil war. In that case, the rest of the world will not look to Russia, but Russia will certainly look to the rest of the world, helpless, without a defender. And Soviet Russia will also look to us. Civil wars are Russia's greatest hope for in them she can always intervene to save "progress" from "reaction."

* * *

MR. WALLACE'S is a queer speech to hear, or read, in America.

There is his argument that American democracy depends upon an abundant life for all. "The only way to prevent Communism is to make the capitalist system produce in abundance."

Why does not Mr. Wallace say, "the only way to prevent capitalism (in Russia) is to make the Communist system produce in abundance?"

How very, very odd that it was capitalist America that had to send lend-lease aid to Russia instead of the other way around. How odd that nine-tenths of the relief distributed around the world is contributed by America. Why not by abundant Russia?

But most dangerous of all is the seductive concept that freedom and democracy can only be enjoyed by nations in full production with universal abundance.

No system in history has ever produced universal equal abundance, according to everyone's standard of abundance. If this becomes the only criterion of a good society, which failing justifies the overthrow of the social order, then no social order will ever be able to stand except by naked force.

* * *

MR. WALLACE said, "there doesn't have to be a fight between Russia and the United States any more than between man and wife." The United States is not married to the Soviet Union, but the people of the United States are married to the American constitution. And the ceremonies sanctifying marriage do not proclaim its inviolability except where there is not abundance, but, on the contrary, the partners take each other "for richer, or poorer, in sickness, in health." Mr. Wallace is asking for an easier divorce law for free democracy than exists for marriage even in the state of Nevada. Nowhere in this country is divorce granted on the ground that the husband has not been able to provide handsomely.

Meanwhile, the votes in the peace conference have shown in what direction the peoples of the world actually are looking. And not I think, because of the democratic party.

The Road Ahead

By Harper Prowse, MLA

I wish more Canadians could have listened in on a conversation I had recently with a man who came to Canada as a refugee from Hitler in 1939. Today he is a veteran and a Canadian citizen—and proud to be both. It was good to listen to him talk, because there was thought behind his words.

* * *

"THIS IS a wonderful country. There is no need for anybody to ever go hungry here in Canada—there are too many opportunities for that to be necessary. Here a man is free to think, to say what he thinks. Here a man is free to dream, and to make his dreams come true. But, perhaps because you have never known any other life, or any other country, you do not seem to realize just how lucky you are in Canada." As he spoke his head was thrown back, his eyes sparkled with vitality, and even though he was sitting in a chair his shoulders were squared and there was an eagerness and alertness about him that made his enthusiasm contagious. I thought that Canada was lucky to have him for a citizen.

He was one of those freedom loving persons who were forced to flee when the Sudeten provinces were ceded to Hitler in 1938. After wandering, unwanted, through Europe for a year, he was brought to Canada with a number of his countrymen in 1939 and settled in a colony near Tupper Creek in the Peace River block. After two years in the colony he was accepted into the Canadian Army with many others of his comrades.

* * *

I TALKED TO several veterans who had come to Canada as members of that group of refugees and who had settled in the colony. I asked them frankly what they thought of our colonization plans and particularly of the scheme they knew. To a man they were critical—not just carpingly critical, but constructively, thoughtfully critical.

One remarked that we shouldn't tell our immigrants things we don't mean. When he arrived in Canada he was told, along with a group of others, that here in Canada they would be free to keep their old memories, their culture, their customs and those ways of life which they wished to keep. Canada wished them to do this. Yet when one of their comrades died and the pall-bearers donned uniforms which they had worn when members of an anti-Fascist organization in their old homes, they were visited by the police and subjected to hostile questioning. Those uniforms were worn as a mark of respect to their dead comrade. They had no thought of worrying Canadians by wearing them—they thought they were free to do so if they wished. Obviously the man who had spoken to them when they arrived had been deceiving them.

Another one didn't think it was sound to try to make farmers out of everybody. Only a few of those who came had had any farming experience. None had any conception of what pioneering bush country without power machinery was like. Many of them were highly trained tradesmen and technicians whose skills are badly needed throughout Canada. Yet our program kept them in the colony at a task for which they had little liking. Only hope for the future kept them going.

A third pointed out that because they were settled together well apart from their Canadian neighbors, it took a real effort for them to learn to speak our language, to learn our customs. The general tendency was for them to make the little part of Canada in which they lived a little part of their own land, transplanted some 6,000 miles, instead of making themselves Canadians. It was a mistake, he thought, to settle people in colonies and leave them to themselves. It would take too long for them to become Canadians.

* * *

A FOURTH was of the opinion—an opinion shared by many old time residents of the Peace River block—that the particular area in which they had been settled had been chosen not so much because of its suitablity as a place for immigrants to begin a new life, but chiefly because it was somebody's white elephant and this was a good way of unloading it. He thought it might be wise to trust our colonization schemes to some other agency than the land and colonization departments of our railways.

The conclusion I came to after talking to these men, talking to old time residents of the district who were familiar with the colony, its people, and their problems was that it is high time we did some serious thinking about this immigration business. We have been obtaining good raw materials out of which we can make good Canadian citizens—but we hanven't been making a very good job of it.

DE - CONTROL

Brockville Recorder and Times

The policy so far followed by Ottawa so far has been to cancel control over goods which reach adequate supply or which have little or no effect on the cost of living index. In consequence we have periodical lists of commodities which are removed from control and official Ottawa asserts that, where this action has been taken, the goods in question have not risen unreasonable in price. If we can preserve peace in industry and thus maintain production, we may see many more commodities increasing in supply during the next few months to such a point that decontrol in their cases may also be possible. It is, we think, essential that Ottawa should move warily in regard to the removal of these controls lest we precipitate a situation in this country comparable to that which ensued in the United States, where many commodities jumped so strikingly in price when de-control was introduced that re-control was decided upon. The interest of the consumer demands that he shall enjoy protection from sky-high prices if it is possible to prevent their appearance.

A big fall in the deficit is shown by the United Kingdom treasury returns published on September 30 for the first half of the financial year. The total ordinary revenue was $5,364,000,000, the total ordinary expenditure $7,280,000,000. This expenditure figure is $3,720,000,000 less than a year ago. The decrease is due mainly to savings in supply services amounting to more than $4,000,000,000. The reduction in income tax was chiefly responsible for a decrease of $88,000,000 in revenue. The British deficit, which now stands at $1,916,000,000, is the lowest for a number of years.

Australian Labor Government Will Extend Social Services

CANBERRA, (CP)—A program designed by the re-elected Labor government to prevent inflation and extend social services and expedite settlement of industrial conflict was outlined Wednesday at the opening of Australia's 18th parliament.

The speech from the throne read by the Duke of Gloucester, whose term as governor-general concludes at the end of the year, presented a schedule of "economic balance" legislation for the new parliamentary sesion and reaffirmed the government's post-war defence policy including proposals for a "larger share" for Australia in Empire arrangements for Pacific security.

The speech forecast continued control of prices, interest rates and land values to prevent inflation.

Free Medical Service

Legislation designed to remove one of the causes of industrial unrest was seen in the forecast of a measure to simplify industrial arbitration and expedite settlement of disputes.

On the strength of a constitutional referendum held with the general election and which extended federal powers over social services, a wide program of free medical assistance was promised.

The plan is intended to cover all details of medical treatment from clinic service to X-ray treatment and hospital care. Other social service fields not yet touched by the government are to be surveyed.

A proposal to negotiate reciprocity in social services with other parts of the empire was mentioned in the speech.

Defence Proposals

Linked with the defence plans was a proposal that the defence production commission carry on the functions of the wartime branches of government. The commission's job would be to maintain in Australia a production and supply organization to meet Empire defence needs in the Pacific.

As outlined in the speech, Australia's defence policy would be based on commitment to the United Nations, co-operation in the Empire plan and also in arrangements with Empire powers and the United States with which the Commonwealth would arrange for a joint use of bases.

In the new house the Labor party headed by Prime Minister Chifley has 43 members compared with 49 in the last parliament. The Liberals have 18, an increase of three and the Country party 11, an increase of one. There are two new Independent Labor members and one independent member.

South Pacific Isle Disappears Again

AUKLAND, N.Z., (CP)—Long an object of interest to New Zealanders, the "jack-in-the-box" Falcon island—which has sunk and risen twice in the last 52 years— has disappeared again.

This time the New Zealand government steamship Maui Pomare, reported passing the little-frequented spot in the Tongan group of the South Pacific without seeing any sign of the island.

When last seen, it was a barren, volcanic plateau 150 feet high. The island rises from the sea during periodical eruptions, sometimes as high as 360 feet. It is believed the latest "disappearance" is connected with an eruption in the Niuaroo island group.

the New Way to take VITAMINS...for better results!

Take them in fortified food—the delicious Ovaltine way!

Of course, the whole subject of vitamins is new. We learn more about them every day. And today, millions are learning a new and better way to take their extra vitamins—a more modern, more natural way that can do more good. Discarding earlier methods of taking vitamins alone, they now take them in fortified food!

For latest evidence shows that vitamins do not work alone. They work most effectively in combination with certain other food elements—which are absolutely necessary for best results.

This is the reason so many people are changing to Ovaltine. A specially-fortified supplementary food-drink — it contains — besides vitamins — nearly every precious food element needed for good health. Especially, those elements necessary for vitamin-effectiveness.

For example, Vitamin A and protein are both necessary in cell-building. Vitamin B1 and energy food act together for sparkling vitality. Vitamin D, Calcium and Phosphorous also need each other. You get them all in a glass of Ovaltine made with milk!

So why not turn to Ovaltine, as many people are doing? If you're eating normal meals, 2 glasses of Ovaltine give you all the extra vitamins and minerals you need for robust health.

Authorities say many people should get extra vitamins and minerals. Reasons include improper selection of food—vitamin deficiencies of many modern foods—also loss of vitamin-mineral values due to shipping, storing and cooking.

3 Months Freedom Ends for Convict

SUDBURY, (CP)—The man who baffled eastern Ontario police for three months after his escape from Kingston penitentiary last Aug. 2—30-year-old Henry Lafortune of North Bay—was in jail here Wednesday scheduled to be returned to Kingston.

Recaptured late Tuesday at Eighteen Mile island south of here, Lafortune had led authorities a 400-mile chase on foot since he escaped while serving a seven-year sentence for breaking, entering and theft of a car.

He told police here that since he surmised a description of himself had been widely circulated he had not dared to hitch-hike or travel the roads by day, but had walked by night and slept in the bush in daylight.

During his three months' freedom, Lafortune was reported at several points in eastern Ontario but always managed to make his escape before police could arrive. Bearded, dishevelled, in rags, stealing and eating raw vegetables from the fields, he was seen—or said to have been seen—all the way from Prince Edward county to the Quebec border.

British Fear German Hunger May Lead to Serious Riots

By Charles Nichols

LONDON, — Facing the imminent prospect of mass starvation in the British zone of Germany, the government Thursday brought the commander-in-chief of the occupation forces back to London for urgent conferences.

R. A. F. Marshall Sir Sholto Douglas arrived by air and began discussions with J. B. Hynd, the Minister responsible for the British zone of occupation, seeking to have diverted to Germany food ships now routed to England.

Although Sir Sholto is hopeful a way may be found to replenish food stocks that are likely to run out by Nov. 15, the government made it clear through Lord Pakenham that the British food ration would not be lowered further to give food to the occupation zone.

Warn of Riots

While Sir Sholto conferred here and Foreign Minister Bevin sought aid from the United States to maintain the German ration, British civilians in the occupation zone were warned they might have to protect themselves if mass starvation brought on food riots more severe than those in Hamburg last winter.

The civilians, employes of the British element of the control commission, were asked when they had last used firearms and it was indicated training in the use of arms might become necessary.

As there is not a sufficiently strong force left in Germany to take care of all contingencies, the British civilians were told bluntly that in the event of large scale riots they would have to protect their own lives.

There is little prospect of the new ration scale of 1,550 calories a day being maintained, and that is considered the minimum required to stave off oedema, the bloating brought on by hunger.

Ration Not Met

The new ration, on a daily basis, consists of 10½ ounces of potatoes, 13 ounces of bread, 2½ ounces of cereals, one-half ounce of meat, one ounce of fish, quarter ounce fat, one ounce sugar and 4½ ounces of skim milk. Actually the cereal ration has not been honored generally and the scale has amounted to only 1,350 calories.

Immediate cause of the food crisis is the failure of the U. S. to keep up scheduled shipments of grain owing to the shipping strike. But the fundamental reason is that Russia is still withholding in the eastern occupation zone the surplus food products that used to be sent from that agricultural area to the western industrial regions of the British and American zones.

While Russia has signified its agreement to treat Germany as an economic unit—implying the even distribution of the domestic food production through all zones—it may take months or even years before the unification can be worked out.

In the interval there are no food reserves in the British zone.

LONDON, (CP) — An authoritative government source said Thursday United States occupation authorities probably will send grain into the British zone of Germany immediately in response to an urgent British appeal.

Raps U. K. Ban On Canadian Goods

LONDON, (CP)— Maj. J. S. P. Armstrong, agent-general for the Ontario government at Canada House. Wednesday told the Incorporated Sales Managers' association that Canadian manufacturers are becoming restless because of the exclusion of their products from Britain.

"We do not welcome selling you bare essentials at sacrifice prices and in return being expected to buy your quanity goods at luxury prices," said Maj. Armstrong. "Our economy will not stand this system long."

If this "one-sided plan" were not altered, sales of British goods in Canada would be reduced.

Maj. Armstrong reminded the association that Canada is the third greatest industrial country in the world She must export a fair percentage of her own manufactured products to balance imports.

He protested any consideration of reductions in Imperial preferences, saying more than 250 Canadian industries would be affected.

Navy Is Declared Not Big Enough

BRISTOL, Que., (CP) — Canada's post-war naval force of 10,000 men is not sufficient to protect her coasts, Vice-Admiral H. E. Reid, chief of the naval staff, told a dinner gathering here Wednesday.

"The United States navy plans a post-war strength of 500,000 men," said Vice-Admiral Reid. "Our population is 1/12 of theirs. You can figure out for yourself the arithmetic."

The Admiral said the 10,000-man peacetime force probably would be filled by spring and that already 8,000 personnel have been enlisted.

Civic Enthusiasm Urged By Ainlay

Urging Edmontonians to take a real and informed interest in the city throughout the year and not merely for a week's election campaign, Mayor Ainlay made a brief victory speech after his re-election had been conceded by T. J. Cairns, the mayor's sole opponent.

Mr. Ainlay congratulated Mr. Cairns for carrying on a clean campaign and said that in "opposing me he was exercising his democratic right." Here is the mayor's speech in summary:

"Another civic election has passed into history, and I wish to express my thanks to the voters of Edmonton for their continued confidence. I can assure you that, health permitting, I will give you of my best. I am fully aware of the responsibilities attached to the office for which you have re-elected me.

"I am very grateful for the cooperation I have received from the citizens while in office, and I ask for the same spirit for 1947. We are citizens of no mean city. Edmonton has wonderful prospects, as evidenced by its consistent growth. It will require the best kind of citizenship to live up to our opportunities.

"A city is not great because of its size, but its greatness rests on the type of its citizens, and the community spirit shown. The coming year will have its problems, but they can be solved if we approach them with the idea of the common good, rather than with selfish interest.

"I am sure we all want to see the success of our city — that we want to see living conditions and educational opportunity the best possible. We may differ as to the best methods but, if our purposes are clear, by frank discussion we can generally arrive at the best solution.

"I wish also to congratulate those who have been elected to our council and school board. I am sure that they will work for what they think will be your best interests."

Thomas J. Cairns, defeated in the mayoralty race, said that regardless of the results of the election it was encouraging to learn that more citizens voted than in past years. "I would like to congratulate Mayor Ainlay on his re-election," he said, "and I wish him every success in the coming year."

Canada Asks U.N. Reconsider Admittance of Eire, Portugal

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., (CP)—Canada's delegation to the United Nations general assembly Wednesday criticized the action of the security council in rejecting application for membership from Eire and Portugal, and supported an Egyptian motion to send these applications back to the council for reconsideration.

The Canadian presentation was part of a two-day debate on new membership during which Senator Tom Connally of the United States accused Chairman Dmitri Manuilsky, Ukrainian foreign minister, of attempting to be a "dictator" to the committee.

After Canada's presentation Wednesday Chairman Manuilsky gained approval of the appointment of a sub-committee to draft a single proposal to cover the objectives contained in the several which had been presented, and report back Thursday.

Canada's presentation was made on behalf of the delegation leader, Rt. Hon. Louis St. Laurent, secretary for external affairs, by Dana Wilgress, Canadian ambassador to Russia. Mr. St. Laurent was absent on another commitment when the opportunity arose for Canada's argument.

Canada's Argument

Mr. Wilgress said:

"The general assembly is charged under article four with making the decision on the admission of any state to membership in the United Nations upon the recommendation of the security council.

"In making that decision it is not to be expected that this body, though giving earnest consideration to recommendations of the security council, can act merely as a rubber stamp.

"The Canadian delegation was glad to join with other delegations in the unanimity with which the committee decided to accept into the membership of this organization the three members reported favorably upon by the security council, but we would be neglectful of our duty if we did not also examine the information contained in the report of the security council in relation to certain other applicants for membership. . .

"The criteria for membership in this organization are clearly stated. . . The organization is open to all 'other peace-loving states—which accept the obligations contained in the present charter—and in the judgment of the organization are able and willing to carry out these obligations. . .'

"We find that three applications were vetoed by a permanent member of the security council on the ground that his state had no diplomatic relations with the applicant. .

Dispute Veto Grounds

"The ground upon which the veto has been exercised in these three instances (Ireland, Portugal and Trans-Jordan) was not, in the opinion of the Canadian delegation, in accord either with the letter or the spirt or article four.

"The article, of course, recites no such ground for the non-admission of members.

Moreover, since the article states that membership is open to all other peace-loving states, the clear implication is that the states already members of the organization are peace-loving. There are, however, among the present members of the organization several states who have not yet established diplomatic relations with all the permanent members of the security council.

Three for Peace

"It is the view of the Canadian delegation that Ireland, Portugal and Trans-Jordan are peace-loving and that therefore their applications should be examined particularly from the stand-point as to whether or not they are able and willing to carry out the obligations of the charter.

"In this connection a principal factor in our view is that the state concerned should posses a sufficient degree of sovereignty to enable it to carry out independently the obligations imposed by the charter. The degree of dependence of an applicant upon another state, therefore, is relevant to the inquiry. . .

"It is our view that Ireland fully meets the requirements of article four respecting membership in the organization. Although many of us may not agree with the attitude of Ireland during the war, this delegation believes that this attitude demonstrates two points.

"The first is that by their neutrality the Irish showed that they placed a high value on peace. The second is that the very fact of this neutrality shows that Ireland is fully able to carry out independently whatever policies are espoused by the Irish people."

SPORTS

HAROLD DEAN, Sports Editor

Flyers' initial dip into Saskatchewan territory can't be termed a successful venture from the Edmonton viewpoint, but it at least should prove very acceptable to the burghers in both Saskatoon and Regina and tend to give the clubs in those cites a flying start with the home fans.

That 6-1 defeat by Saskatoon naturally was rather disturbing, and it now appears fairly obvious Regina Caps really have something this season, as had been claimed for them. In any event the results of the two games, combined with the Lethbridge victory last night will be a boon for the circuit.

Edmonton fans will be able to judge for themselves on Saturday as to just how good Saskatoon Elks are. Regina Capitals will not be here until Nov. 30. Did somebody say something about Calgary Stampeders being cosily nestled at the bottom of the league standings? Don't look now, but Flyers are only one peg up!

Regina Cap Tops List

Head man for the moment in the scoring race for the western senior loop is one Charles (Chuck) McCullough of the Regina Caps. The acquiring of the former Notre Dame sharpie by Willie Hunter has been paying off to date, even although he is on the small side, for "Chuck" is leading the parade with a total of 10 points, half of them goals.

Joe Fisher and Bing Juckes (Jukes) of Lethbridge, and Bill Jenkins of Saskatoon are tied for the runner-up spot with seven points. Juckes is leading goal-sniper for the league with six, while Fisher and Jenkins both have five assists with a pair of tallies.

Jenkins is the former Lloydminster boy who was with Canadian juniors here at the time he entered the services. He tried out with both Flyers and New Westminser Royals last year, but then had been out of hockey for quite a stretch.

Kreller and Merluk Well Up

Elmer Kreller of Flyers and Gordon Buttrey of Elks are tied for third place with six points and next come Bing Merluk of Edmonton, Harrison of Lethbridge and Glen Richardson of Saskatoon, all with five. Merluk tops Flyer goal-getters with four.

Don Stanley (who was unable to make the Saskatchewan swing with Flyers), Dave Livingstone of Saskatoon, Gordie Staseson, Taylor and Brown of Regina, and Archie Wilder, Ken (Red) Hunter, Bob Brownridge and Dunc Cairns of Calgary, all follow on even terms with four points each.

Archie Wilder—believe it or not—is Calgary's leading goal-sniper with three. He was on the Stampeder starting forward trio last night along with Dunc Cairns and Tony Desmarais. Stan Devicq and Freddy Smitten both have three points, two from assists.

Daylight Saving Will Help

The rumor that John Ducey was displeased over the result of yesterday's voting on the daylight saving plebiscite, is without foundation. In fact it probably can be taken for granted too, that John Beatty already has been advised of the glad tidings.

But it is not only senior baseball which will benefit from the extra hour of daylight if the charter amendment goes through. Junior baseball, fastball, tennis, golf, racing, lawn bowling, and in fact all outdoor sport will feel the advantage which will accrue. ....

Junior hockey teams on the west coast appear to be finding the going especially tough this year and the league may be forced to discontinue. Nanaimo is again the only exception and over 2,000 saw the opener there last week. Joe Sawchuk and Art Kaleta of Canmore, who were with Canadians here two seasons ago are with the Clippers.

CHICAGO TRIMS NY RANGERS 6-2

CHICAGO, Nov. 7—(AP)—Aggressive hockey which produced at least one goal in each period Wednesday night gave Chicago Black Hawks a 6-2 victory over New York Rangers in a National League game before 16,504 persons.

The Hawks, in winning their third game of the season, pulled into a tie with New Yorkers for third place.

NEW YORK tallied first on a goal by Bryan Hextall at 4:41 of the first period. The Hawks tied it up 10 seconds later, and from there on were never headed. The Chicagoans counted three times in the first period, once in the second period and twice in the final frame.

The Hawk "pony line" of Max and Doug Bentley and Bill Mosienko—top scoring trip of the league last year—sparked the Chicago attack, each member getting one goal. The Bentley's each drew an assist.

FIRST PERIOD: 1—New York Hextall (Watson, Pike) 4:41; 2—M. Bently (Mariucci) 5:01; 3—Chicago, Wares, (M. Bentley) 9:36; 4—Chicago, Johnston (Horeck) 19:47. Penalties — Mariucci, Dick.

SECOND PERIOD: 5—Chicago, Horeck (Wares, Blades) 3:51. Penalties—Mariucci, Lamirande, Leswick.

THIRD PERIOD: 6—Chicago, Mosienko (D. Bentley, Hamilton) 1:46; 7—Chicago, D. Bentley (Gee) 17:10, 8—New York, N. Colville (Pike) 18:05. Penalties — none.

Lethbridge Defeats Calgary Stamps 6-4

LETHBRIDGE, Nov. 7—(CP)—Lethbridge Maple Leafs made a successful senior hockey debut here last night when they defeated Calgary Stampeders, winners of the Allan cup last year, 6-4 in a Western Canada Senior Hockey League game before a crowd of nearly 3,000 fans.

After an absence of senior hockey in Lethbridge since the old Maple Leafs, Dave Schriner's club treated the fans to a good style of hockey as it kept in front of Stampeders at every period.

AHEAD 3-2 AT the end of the first period, Maple Leafs boosted the lead to 6-3 in the second stanza and held Calgary to a lone goal in the third period as the southern city squad settled back and played a defensive style of hockey.

Juckes sparked the Lethbridge victory and turned in a 3-goal performance while Harrison and Fisher played well with a goal and two assists apiece. Ken (Red) Hunter, leading scorer of the league last season, led the Calgary squad with two goals and an assist.

THE WIN WAS the first in three starts for the Lethbridge club, losing its first game against Edmonton and drawing 6-6 with Stampeders at Calgary Saturday night.

Russ Dertell, in the Calgary nets played a fine game and saved many Lethbridge drives when Maple Leafs were pouring on the power in the first two periods of the contest. Confirm Release Of Alex Pringle

VANCOUVER, Nov. 7 -(CP)- Alex Pringle, ace right winger, yesterday was given his release from the Vancouver Canucks as a wedding present by owner Coley Hall.

Pringle played with the Canucks, U. S. amateur hockey champions, last year, but since mid-October has been seeking his release so he could play for Edmonton Flyers of the Western Canada Hockey League.

Hall assented after getting a wire saying Pringle was to be married soon and wanted to stay in Edmonton. Earlier, Pringle was refused his release until the Flyers provided Vancouver with a player to match his ability.

Invite Tornadoes Out to Vancouver

VANCOUVER, Nov. 7 -(CP)- Football fans here will see an unofficial western Canada junior final if the Calgary Tornadoes, prairie champions, accept an invitation to play the Vancouver Blue Bombers late this month.

Hugh McWatters, spokesman for the junior board of trade football league, said yesterday an invitation had been extended the Calgary squad and that Ken Roberts will fly to the foothills city to complete details if the game can be arranged.

CALGARY, Nov. 7 -(CP)- No decision was reached last night by Calgary Tornadoes regarding acceptance of various bids for games during the next few weeks. It seemed reasonably certain Tornadoes would entertain Saskatchewan champions here next Monday but proposed games in Montreal and Vancouver were still up in the ir. Tornadoes figure it will cost them at least $5,000 to travel to Montreal and may attempt to raise the money locally to guarantee the expenses.

Varsity Hoop Clubs Take League Openers

University's two entries in the Edmonton Senior Men's Basketball League, the Golden Bears and Bearcats, got away to a flying start for the winter season Wednesday night when they registered victories in the opening doubleheader at RCAF.

The Golden Bears, league champions last season, made an impressive showng in the first half of the twin bill by trouncing the RCAF Aces 65 _ 21 and then the Bearcats came along in the second fixture to down City Police 51-28.

THE GOLDEN BEARS, led by Bill Price wth 15 points, Don Blue wih 10, Bob Strother with nine and Gordon McCormick with eight, floored a well drilled club that appeared to be lining up as the team to beat.

The Bears' shooting accuracy was much better than their opponents, sinking 28 of 47 field tries while Aces only made seven out of 27 attempts.

The winners picked up a 12-5 lead in the first quarter and were never headed. They increased it to 31-9 at the half and 55-14 at three-quarter time.

SAM SCHECTKER, sharp-shooting forward for the Bearcats, paced the newly formed Varsity crew to its victory over the Police squad with 13 points, while team-mates Norio Nishio and Doug Allen with 12 and 10 points respectively also played a large part in the Bearcat triumph.

Ken Shaw and Alf Edwardson paced the Cops with eight and six points respectively.

THE VICTORS out-scored the Police 13-7 in the opening frame and managed to hold their own throughout the remainder of the game without too much difficulty. They were outcounted 12-10 in the second quarter, but hit the half way mark with a 23-19 margin. Bearcats boosted their lead to 31-25 by out-scoring their opponents 8-6 in the third session and then finished up with a strong scoring barrage, sinking 20 points to Police's four.

Regina Scores 3-2 Victory Over Flyers

Rheault Nets In Overtime For Capitals

REGINA, Nov. 7—(CP)—Paul Rheault's overtime goal gave Regina Capitals a 3-2 victory over Edmonton Flyers in a bitterly-fought Western Canada Senior Hockey League game here last night and brought the Flyers their second loss in as many nights. Attendance was 3,500.

The win put Capitals atop the league with Saskatoon Elks who vanquished the Flyers Tuesday night. Each has won two games and lost one in the still-young schedule. Lethbridge, Edmonton and Calgary trail.

RHEAULT and Toby Brown did all the scoring for the Capitals. Brown tallying in the first and second periods on assists by Rheault with Mike Fischer marking up an assist on the winning goal. Bing Merluk counted one of the Flyers goals and the second was given to Alex Pringle, just released by Vancouver Canucks, when Hap Edwards, Regina defenceman, knocked the puck into his own net.

Brown scored the first goal of the ragged first period when he picked the puck out of a scramble and gave McCauley in the Edmonton net no chance on his shot. Only 18 seconds later the Flyers came back to tie it up, Bing Merluk taking a pass from Stan Devicq for the goal.

FLYERS' second counter of the period was contributed by Capitals' Hap Edwards. The defenceman poked it into his own goal Alex Pringle who was the nearest of the Flyers to the play got credit for the tally, their final one of the night.

The Flyers were hard pressed when Solly Solinger was chased for roughing in the middle period but McCauley turned aside every shot, including two close ones from Fischer, and it was not until the period was almost 18 minutes old that Brown put the Caps back on even terms.

His goal, on an assist from Rheault, came while Pug Young of Edmonton was doing time for roughing.

McCAULEY and Francis were unbeatable in the third period which witnessed the best body-checking of the night. Even when Bim Barker was banished for holding and the Caps, sparked by Brown, roared in for the kill, McCauley kicked every shot aside. Francis was equally brilliant on Young's hard shot.

Rheault's goal came in the second minute of the overtime period but Caps couldn't extend their margin even when Pringle was penalized.

Flyers tried desperately in the final four minutes but their efforts were in vain.

ROBINSON LEAVES CANVAS TO KNOCK OUT ART LEVINE

CLEVELAND, Nov. 7 -(AP)- Sugar Ray Robinson dug himself out of the canvas after a fifth round, nine-count knockdown Wednesday night to knock out heavy hitting Artie Levine of Brooklyn in 2:41 of the last round of a scheduled 10-rounder before 12,102 fans who paid $83,171.

Robinson weighed 150, Levine 159¼.

ROBINSON had an edge over the Brooklyn Bomber for the first nine rounds, despite the fifth round when he dived into the canvas after being clipped with a left hook while pinned in his own corner.

The knockout, which came with startling suddeness as Levine was staging a late round rally, ended Artie's five-knockout victory string in the local arena.

In the ninth Levine staggered Robinson with a left hook, sending him reeling across the ring, but the Brooklyn boy was slow following up his advantage and Robinson got away.

IN THE 10th, as they slugged toe to toe, Robinson sunk his left into Levine's midriff, and Artie sagged against the ropes, Robinson battering him into helplessness as he hung onto the top strand and refused to go down. He was counted out while seated on the lower rope.

The gladiators were guaranteed $12,500 each, with a privilege of 27½ percent, one of the largest purses ever paid here. The $83,000 gate was the largest ever attracted by an Ohio indoor show.

The victory was Robinson's 73rd in 75 professional fights. The knockout was the first suffered by Levine.

Boston Bruins Climb Into First-Place Tie

DETROIT, Nov. 7—(AP)—Coming from behind twice to deadlock the score, Boston Bruins climbed into a tie with Toronto for the National Hockey League lead Wednesday night by playing their fifth draw of the season, a 3-3 standoff with the last place Detroit Red Wings.

Detroit's smallest hockey crowd of the year—11,368 fans—saw ex-Detroiter Joe Carveth score his first goal since he was traded to Boston and it was Carveth's third-period tally on a tip-in of Murry Henderson's long shot that brought the Bruins the tie.

There was not one penalty during the game.

Billy Taylor, Detroit's centre and the league's leading scorer, pushed in a short shot two minutes after the game opened and Ted Lindsay, Detroit leftwing, hooked the puck into the corner of the Boston net 12 minutes later to put the Red Wings away to a 2-0 lead.

Boston spent most of the night catching up.

FIRST PERIOD: 1—Detroit, Taylor, (Conacher, Howe) 2:14; 2—Detroit, Lindsay (Lundy), Bruneteau) 14:01; 3—Boston, Dumart (Schmidt, Bauer) 14:43. Penalties — none.

U. S. Army Plans to Fill Void In Its Knowledge of Alaska

By Frank Angelo

WITH TASK FORCE FRIGID, Fairbanks, Alaska, (CDN)—The sign on one desk here says: "Never have so many known so little about so much."

These, in effect, can be considered the fighting words to spur this cold-bound force as it settles down to its task of learning to defend this Arctic country.

Consider some of the pre-atomic-type questions for which answers will be sought:

Check Fighting Conditions

How long can a man work or lie immobile, in 40-degree-below weather under combat conditions?

What type of food is needed to keep him healthy and in fighting trim?

Will the soldier of the north have to carry a charge of T.N.T. to blast out his foxhole?

No question on the Arctic will be overlooked. The Eskimos and sourdoughs have some of the answers, but they lack the military angle.

These 1,500 men, plus some 3,000 at Camp McCoy and Adak, are out to get a lot more basic information.

Await Cold Weather

Men and equipment, from a cigarette lighter to a 46-ton tank, will be given two sets of tests—one under controlled, and the other under combat, conditions. These will start as soon as the weather here has settled in its sub-zero stride. It has been hovering around 5-above.

Meantime, the men are getting trial runs into the field. Officers are re-emphasizing the importance of avoiding perspiration; of wearing gloves, of putting on and taking off clothes at the proper times.

With a few minor and secret exceptions, everything tested will be present standard army equipment. An effort will be made to determine what modifications, if any, are necessary, or what entirely new material must be devised for military survival in this type of weather.

Pick "Arctic Types"

Medical experts with this "guinea pig" group figure they may be able to make it as easy to spot an "Arctic type" in the induction line as it is to spot the villain in a melodrama.

Among the extensive tests will be some designed to find out whether a man's appearance, thinking or actions have any special bearing in making him a good north country fighter.

"Much already has been learned to show the relationship of body-build to professional aptitudes," explains Lt. Jules H. Last, of Highland Park, Ill., who will play a leading role in the physiological and psychological tests.

Test Human Needs

From the human standpoint, the investigators will run a wide gamut. Food consumption, food preferences, expenditure of energy, use of water and many other aspects of living will be closely checked by scientific methods. An effort will be made to find out how much a man can stand and what can be done to make him stand a little more.

Attention also will be given to handling wounded under extreme weather conditions. Full hospital equipment will be taken into the field, and specially-designed helicopters will be tested for the evacuation of "casualties" to base hospitals.

Men from various ground-force units represented here have been specially selected for the physical checkups in order to provide a representative cross-section.

Many of these tests already have been made under laboratory conditions. But this will be the first time the findings will be put to combat-type scrutiny.

Canada to Man Only One Carrier

HALIFAX, (CP)—The Halifax Herald said it had "learned reliably" the aircraft carrier Warrior, which sailed from here Tuesday, is due for temporary decommissioning when she reaches her western base Esquimalt.

The story added that the crew is to be posted to the new Canadian carrier, H.M.C.S. Magnificent, now under construction in Belfast.

Reason for such a transfer was given as the lack of experienced hands in the navy to keep both vessels in operation.

(The Magnificent, sister ship of the Warrior, is expected to arrive in Halifax, her home base, next spring. Unlike the Warrior, she will be completely winterized.)

A Ottawa, naval service headquarters said navy manpower limitations will permit operation of only one aircraft carrier at a time. Defence Minister Abbott had explained this in the commons last year during consideration of estimates covering the peace time strength of 10,000.

"It will accordingly be necessary to place H.M.C.S. Warrior in reserve when the new aircraft carrier Magnificient is commissioned," said headquarters. "In the meantime Warrior will remain an active unit of the fleet."

Stress Shortage Graduate Nurses

CALGARY, (CP) — Shortage of graduate nurses and increased operating costs in Alberta hospitals were discussed Wednesday at a convention of the Associated Hospitals of Alberta.

More than 150 delegates, most of whom are hospital board members, medical superintendents, business managers and superintendents of hospitals, are attending. The association was formed in 1943 by the amalgamation of the Alberta Hospitals association and the Alberta Municipal Hospitals association.

Senator Protests Flying Red Ensign

LUNENBURG, N.S., (C.P.) — Senator William Duff sent a telegram to Prime Minister King to give the federal government a few pointers on what flags should be flown over public buildings.

The ire of the Lunenburg senator was aroused by a news item reporting instructions had been issued at Ottawa that Union Jacks flown from public buildings should be replaced by the red ensign with Canadian coat-of-arms as the Jacks wore out, pending selection of a new Canadian flag.

"I strongly protest this change", Senator Duff said. "As long as Canada is a member of the British Commonwealth there are only two flags which it is proper to fly—the Union Jack on all public buildings, and the red ensign on business house flag poles, private residences and on ships."

PARLIAMENT PROROGUES

LONDON, (Reuters) — Parliament prorogued Wednesday until Nov. 12 with a message by His Majesty the King expressing hope that the peace treaties with Romania, Bulgaria, Hungary and Finland will be signed soon and contribute substantially to the rehabilitation of war-stricken Europe.

Found in Hospital With Cut in Back

HAMILTON, (CP) — A man who left hospital at nearby Simcoe Monday with an open incision in his back was found wandering in the corridors of Hamilton General hospital Wednesday and authorities held little hope for his recovery. They reported peritonitis had attacked the incision, made by Simcoe doctors to drain pus from a kidney.

The man gave his name as Hubert Fontaine and at first claimed he had been attacked and stabbed in a bootleg establishment in Hamilton Sunday and robbed of $108. The 42-year-old patient later admitted he had left Simcoe hospital Monday clad only in a bedsheet. He had obtained clothing at a nearby farm.

Sees U. S. Result Bad for Britain

LONDON, (CP)— The London Star, printing the first British editorial reaction to the United States election results, declared Wednesday: "We shall see American big business attempting to exploit the Republican victory and in every way thwarting national and international efforts to get order into world affairs."

"That attitude cuts right across Britain's policy," the Liberal publication concluded.

Other London evening newspapers announced results of the voting in headlines such as: "U.S. Landslide to the Right."

"Britain may suffer the backwash of today's political topsy-turvydom in America, but the British course is set," said the Star. "Today's results make the increase of British industrial output all the more urgent.

"The only answer to the triumph of reaction in America is for Britain to stand on her own feet. As long as we continue to live on credit and capital, we shall be so much more at the mercy of backward decisions across the Atlantic."

Consider Bonus For Pensioners

By Chester Bloom

OTTAWA.—The dominion government, it was learned here from authoritative sources, is favorably considering adding a cost-of-living bonus to its monthly payments to the provinces for old age pensions which would raise the pensions by approximately $5 a month, providing the provinces pay a share of the increase.

Under the present federal statute, the dominion pays 75 percent of old age pensions for persons 70 years of age or over up to $25 per month. All provinces pay such pensions but some also add supplemental amounts.

Alberta and British Columbia pay $30 a month, each adding $5 to the $25, of which the dominion pays $18.75.

For the fiscal year ending March 31, 1945, the total cost of these pensions to the federal government was $39,503,000. For the fiscal year 1945-46, the cost to the federal government was $41,291,227.

The exact proportion of the cost-of-living bonus which the federal government would agree to add to the pensions providing the provinces pay a share, is not known, but it would increase them, with the provincial supplement, by about $5 a month.

Wheat Imports By U. K. Lower

LONDON, (CP) — British wheat imports up to last Aug. 31 were lower than the estimates on which the government decided to introduce bread rationing, Food Minister Strachey told the commons Wednesday.

He said his ministry estimated that the first six weeks of bread rationing — up to Aug. 31 — had resulted in a net saving of 130,000 tons of flour.

Mr. Strachey remained silent when Sir Waldron Smithers, Conservative member for Orpington, asked: "Is not the main reason for the shortage of wheat due to the fact that the bulk of the purchases are made by inefficient negotiators with no business experience?"

The food minister said that through the public accounts committee the house would later have an exact account of transaction.

A City of Progress . . . the Gateway to the Northland . . . at the Crossroads of World Air Lines!

WHILE Edmonton's past is replete with romance, adventure and achievement, and its present is featured by steady growth and expansion, it is in the future that it is bound to take its place as one of the most important centres, not only in Canada, but on the North American Continent. With an abundance of natural resources close at hand its agricultural, industrial and commercial future are assured.

It is a city of progress. It stands at the gateway to the great northland, and it is at the crossroads of world air lines.

To the north lie untold riches. Yellowknife and other fields storing limitless mineral treasures, are just beginning to become known. Already daily — except Sunday — air service is available to Yellowknife, White horse and Fairbanks. The municipal airport is ideally situated and suited to take care of the heavy volume of air traffic. The area comprises 750 acres. The airport, with runways and buildings involved an outlay of $10,000,000.

From the runways daily planes go in all directions, with Canadian Pacific Air Lines and Trans-Canada Air Lines providing most of the flights. Northwest Air Lines and Western Air Lines from the United States have made this an important point on projected global flights.

The Alaska Highway, built under pressure and duress in time of war, is expected to be opened to tourist traffic next year, when many thousands of visitors will come through here. The tourist attractions along the highway, and at points touched by the Canol Pipe Line will be many and in view of the wide publicity those two projects received, the number of visitors is expected to be great.

As the great northland, with its incalculable resources opens up, Edmonton is certain to expand and prosper as it becomes more and more of a distributing centre.

The great mines of the north are mainly concentrating on production of gold, silver, copper and uranium, although rarer metals such as beryllium and tantalum are being developed. These metals are met in an area within the Pre-Cambrian shield which extends eastward from Fort Smith and the centre of Great Bear Lake to Hudson Bay and northward from the south shore of Great Slave Lake to the Arctic.

Oil has been found in tremendous quantities in the Fort Norman area.

Along the Athabaska River are thousands of square miles of asphaltic sands capable of being processed for the recovery of oil and asphalt products.

Underlying the Waterways and McMurray districts are beds of pure coarse and fine salt.

Edmonton is the geographical trading centre for the entire northern area and when the vast mineral and other deposits are developed, as they will be in the near future, Edmonton will prosper and expand as those resources yield their treasures.

With a view to future demands imposed by increased trade and commerce plans already have been made for much development within the city. Some development will be in abeyance until labor and materials are available and some will wait until the circumstances are such that procedure is timely.

- A recent article is a nationally-known financial paper suggested that in the not too distant future, Edmonton might be the second largest city in Canada. That suggestion is not beyond the bounds of probability.

Report Operators Expect New Losses

Fear Further Rise In Alberta Coal Price

An even greater rise in the price of coal than that recently announced, is foreseen by the end of the year, according to J. B. Starky, chairman of the coal section of the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce

IN A REPORT before the chamber council meeting in the Corona hotel Wednesday, Mr. Starky explained how the wage increase recently granted to coal miners in Alberta and British Columbia had already resulted in one rise in coal prices.

He said that mines in this district are finding that production per employe is on the wane and mine operators have expressed the fear that further experience under the new wage increase, and shorter hours of labor, will tend to further losses to the operators.

HE EXPLAINED that the wage increase of $1.40 per day to all mine employes actually cost the mine operator $1.55 per man per day including the 15 cents per day compensation costs

He estimated the average output per employe in this district as 3.2 tons of coal a day. This amount will be lowered due to the recently granted five-day week, to about three tons. He pointed out that in Britain only one ton per day was mined by an individual employe. The $1.55 labor cost, divided by three tons shows a 52 cent per ton increase in production.

The five-day week, he said, reduces mine output by 16½ per cent but the overhead remains constant due to salaried employes. This adds 12 cents per ton on the cost. Mine ventilation, water pumping, horse feeding, and additional work calling for overtime rates equals 14 cents per ton.

THE THIRD ITEM, three cents per ton welfare fund is a straight cost of three cents per ton, Upkeep of the mine on the extra idle day, Saturday, costs two cents per ton.

The increase in wages, granted to the miners was made on a retroactive basis to Oct. 1. The increase in the coal price became effective Oct. 21. Five cents per ton was allowed to recover this loss of 80 cents per ton for the three weeks.

Fourth item pointed out by Mr. Starky was the new basis for awarding the annual two weeks holiday with pay, which increases the cost by one and a quarter cents per ton.

THE FIFTH item was a general clause granted to mine employes namely correction of inequalities. This is the method used by the union to go through all rates and increase everyone to the highest rate paid by any individual mine. He pointed out that at the Banner mine, this increased the miners loading coal 19 cents per day over the previously mentioned figures.

The task of deciding the amount that each grade of coal should be increased to recover this $1.00 per ton, was left to the operators.

THE GOVERNMENT accepted their recommendations and increased prices according to coal grades.

Canada Trade Outlet Is Seen in Mexico

There is a great opening for trade between Canada and Mexico, especially in purebred livestock from the Dominion in exchange for tropical fruits, woods, silver and handicrafts of various kinds, according to Gen, Gabriel R. Guevara and Dr. Arturo Figueroa of Mexico City, who were Edmonton visitors Thursday following a successful big-game hunt in the Jasper hinterland.

THE GENERAL had great praise for Canada, its peoples and the beauty of, its topography He emphasized another great potential which Mexico offers to this country and that is the numbers of Mexicans who desire to make Canada their hunting and fishing locale.

One obstacle which was preventing a much greater tourist trade during the hunting season was the lack of information available on Canada in their native land.

There is no dearth of information on commercial and industrial subjects obtainable from the Canadian embassy, but there was very little to be had on Canada's offerings in hunting and fishing.

IN MEXICO THERE is a federation of hunters and fishers comprising more than 12,000 members out of which there is a large percentage who annually range to other lands during the shooting season.

The general advised that it would be mutually beneficial if Canada would prepare information on all angles which would normally concern visiting sportsmen, particularly an explanation on the legal regulations required of visitors entering the country. Also accommodation, locations, guides, interpreters and transportation.

HE POINTED OUT that the federation had its own bulletins which were regularly distributed to its membership, and that information desired would receive wide circulation among the 12,000 members if consigned to the National Federation of Shooting and Fishing, Room 210, Uruguay 55, Mexico City. Any such information did not necessarily have to be in Spanish, since there are numerous translation services there as well as many Mexicans who speak English.

It is the first visit for the two Mexicans, although Gen. Guevara has two daughters and one son in a college at Montreal. They will leave Friday for Montreal, where the general will visit his family before returning to Mexico.

ON THE QUESTION of emigration from Canada to Mexico, as well as holiday and tourist trade the general said, "Mexico is open to all men of good will."

The general, still active in the Mexican infantry, has a record of 36 years' service in the military, during which time he has witnessed many uprisings. The nation was stabilized politically now, he said. He had praise for the incoming president Miguel Aleman, as well as his predecessor, President Camacho, whose term expires in December.

Economically Mexico's balance was disturbed through the war years but was regaining its foothold. Last year Canada exported 3,000 purebred cattle, and there is still a large market in this respect. He said the preference ran to Holsteins and Jerseys, which thrive in the Mexican climate.

Millar, KC., in city police court Thursday morning. The accused ran into the tender of a train on 96 street and 105 avenue on Oct. 26. Evidence showed that the bell was ringing on the train at the time, and the magistrate said he could see no excuse for running into it.

Exonerate Driver In Fatal Mishap

Verdict of accidental death, which completely exonerated Lyle Edward Scott, 9910 156 street, driver of the car which struck and killed eight-year-old Carman Ross Smith, 10150 153 street, at 152 street and the Jasper highway last Oct. 30, was returned by a six-man coroner's jury Wednesday afternoon in city police court. City coroner, Dr. M.M. Cantor, was in charge of the proceedings.

THE BOY'S FATHER, David M. Smith, said that his son got out of the car and was struck as he reached approximately the centre of the road. Scott stated that he did not see the boy until he was just a few feet behind the parked car.

Scott further stated that the lad must have sensed something was going to happen because he hesitated and then took one step backwards. Scott applied his brakes and swerved to the left but could not avoid hitting the boy.

FIVE WITNESSES estimated the speed of Scott's vehicle to be between 25 and 30 miles per hour. Cpl. James Muir, head of the RCMP highway patrol, submitted 12 photographs of the vehicles involved and the surrounding area. He told the jury that the lighting in the district is very poor and has always been a "headache" to the highway patrol.

The drive for an additional $300,000, which is to be raised by the province as a whole, will get underway shortly.

Purpose of the memorial scholarship fund, is to supply free university training to deserving children of war veterans.

Eight of Varsity's Fairest to Compete For Beauty Crown

Co-eds on the University of Alberta campus squared away and mobilized their outstanding charmers today to meet the challenge of the loveliest from the Universities of British Columbia, Saskatchewan and Manitoba in a beauty contest to be held at Vancouver on Friday, Nov. 15.

There was an early rush to enter, reminding some observers of a land office or a recruiting booth on a busy day.

By early afternoon officials in charge announced that eight of the most pulchritudinous co-eds on the campus had entered the lists on behalf of the good old Green and Gold.

Mr. Arlidge wasn't altogether lucky, though, and because he lost another bet, will not be able to shave until Christmas.

Study Ways to Ease Traffic Congestion

Recommendations affecting the problems of traffic congestion and parking of vehicles in downtown Edmonton passed recently by the civic affairs' committee of the Edmonton branch, Alberta Motor Association, were read at a luncheon meeting of the board of directors this week at the Club Roosevelt.

DR. G. J. HOPE, president, was chairman, and A. P Gregory, chairman of the committee read the report

To ease traffic congestion in downtown Edmonton at peak hours, noon, after - five - o'clock and other busy periods, it was suggested that the city study the possibility of re-routing buses, and re-directing motor traffic to other lateral roads other than Jasper avenue. This, it was felt, would take the strain off Edmonton's main thoroughfare.

The suggestion went on to recommend that 102 avenue and 104 avenue be opened for more cross-city traffc. In this connection, it was suggested by a member at the meeting, that the centre-street boulevards on 102 avenue be removed to make a wider street for through traffic.

The city was urged to anticipate parking needs of the future, as well as study needs of the present, and to plan now for the setting aside of certan downtown blocks as parking lots, to ensure adequate off-street parking.

TO FURTHER HELP solve the problem, it was urged that the present traffic regulations be more rigorously enforced by the city police.

The committee has also urged further study of parking meters, before any action to instal them in Edmonton, is taken. It was pointed out that in many cities where they have already been installed, they have proven unsatisfactory. It was further thought that the motorist was already taxed highly enough for his driving privilege.

The annual meeting of the branch will be held in the Masonic Temple, Monday, Nov. 18. It was urged that all members attend.

ANNUAL REPORTS will be given, covering the progress of the past year, and also two motion picture films, one on Jasper National Park and the other on wild life, will be shown. Howard Stutchbury is in charge of plans for the meeting.

Membership report submitted by the secretary, Walter Caton, revealed a membership of 11,430 in the Edmonton branch. This included 6,670 active, and 4,760 associate members.

Breakdown for October revealed substantial increases over 1945. In October 1946 there were 600 memberships taken out, in 1945, there were 445. In 1945 there were 278 associate memberships and this year 442.

Walter Crawford, chairman of the school safety control committee, reported that safety slogans have now been put on the backs of city police motorcycles.

"WHEN THE motorcycle is in motion, or at standstill, at the curb or at the scene of an accident, the warning is easily read by the general public," he said.

The slogans read: "Watch While Walking," Study the Traffic Laws," "Obey the Traffic Signals," etc.

He indicated a further improvement in traffic control. He said that the matter of the use of a small amplifier by traffic officials which would carry the voice two or three blocks away, to a jaywalker, or infringer of traffic law.

"They are being used now by the RCMP., and in other cities, and have proven very effective in enforcing traffic regulations," he said.

3 Charged With Store Break-In

Efficient work on the part of two city constables early Thursday morning brought a quick halt to the activities of three men who are alleged to have broken into the premises of Richards Pharmacy, 10862 Jasper avenue.

CONSTABLE H. M. Thomlinson stated he was walking his beat near 109 street about 3 a.m. when he spotted a figure walking up and down in front of the drug store. On investigating he found that the store had been broken into.

Hearing a noise downstairs in the premises, he decided to have a look around and found a man who gave his name as William Cowie. Returning to the street he located the man who had been walking up and down in front of the store. This man gave his name as Gordon McChesney. He arrested them, called a taxi and escorted the two suspects to the station.

ABOUT 4 o'clock in the morning the proprietor of the drug store, Edward E. Richards, reported to Constable P. Salzl that his place had been broken into earlier and two men arrested, but that he still heard a noise in the basement. The constable investigated and found another man under the stairway. He gave his name as Kenneth McCracken.

The three accused appeared before Magistrate A. I. Millar, KC, in city police court Thursday morning and were remanded until Nov. 15 with bail set at $5,000 each. They are charged with shopbreaking.

Alberta Cattle Shipped Abroad

Many shipments of purebred cattle have gone from Alberta to South American points during the last summer, it was learned Thursday from officials of the dairy branch, provincial department of agriculture.

THE LARGEST order however went to Britain with more than 200 Holsteins which brought a return to the shippers of more than $500,000. The requirements by Britain in connection with this consignment of purebreds was one of the strictest the province has experienced.

First airborne shipment of purebred stock occurred also this year, when eight bulls from Alberta purebred farms were flown to Ecuador.

TWO MEXICAN visitors to the province, Gen. Gabriel R. Guevara and Dr. Arturo Figueroa, reported in Edmonton Thursday that Mexico had an open market for Alberta's purebred Holsteins and Jerseys.

William Davidson Weds Miss Myrtle I. Stangier

STRATHMORE, Nov. 1—On Saturday last the home of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Stangier, 12 miles northeast of Strathmore, was the scene of a double wedding ring ceremony performed by Rev. J. R. Morden of Calgary at a flower banked archway when their only daughter, Miss Myrtle Irene Stangier, became the bride of William M. Davidson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Davidson of Edmonton.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length white satin and lace gown fashioned with a sweetheart neckline and lily point sleeves. Her long veil fell from a coronet of orange blossoms. She carried an ivory prayer book centred with a gardenia from which hung clusters of stephanotis. She wore a strand of pearls, gift of the groom.

The bridegroom was attended by Richard Stangier, brother of the bride, and Larry Dunn of Ottawa, Ohio, ushered the guests.

Mrs. N. Nilsson played the wedding music and during the signing of the register Miss Opal Englund, cousin of the bride, sang I'll Walk Beside You.

IN ROOMS decorated with pink and white streamers, candle-lit tables were set for 80 guests. A three-tier wedding cake flanked by mauve and white chrysanthemums centred the bride's table.

Later in the evening the bridal couple left by car for their honeymoon in the mountains, the bride donning a fuchsia colored wool dress topped by an oyster-shade coat with black accessories. She wore a corsage of roses.

Upon their return, Mr. and Mrs. Davidson will reside in Edmonton.

Seeks to Combat Marital Discord

MONTREAL, Nov. 7 (CP) —An adequate marriage counselling service is urgently needed to deal scientifically with personal problems which result in many tragic marriage failures, Dr. Baruch Silverman, director of the Mental Hygiene Institute, said in an address to the suburban St. Lambert's Women's Association.

Dr. Silverman, assistant professor of psychiatry at McGill University, said emotional insecurity rather than financial and economic insecurity produces the majority of marriage problems.

A MARRIAGE couselling service would advise young people contemplating marriage and would deal with martial problems. The service would enable couples to adapt themselves more satisfactorily to one another to maintain the integrity of the family group.

In many cases husbands and wives were unable to adapt themselves satisfactorily to one another because of the emotional stress to which they had been subjected since the war ended.

Many of these people had always been mentally unstable individuals but prior to the war they had been able to make a relatively successful adaption to marriage and home life.

At the present time they appeared unable to face their responsibilities and readily tended to become involved in serious martial difficulties.

THEY REQUIRED special psychiatry treatment to tide them over their emergency period.

"In order to help people to develop more satisfactory social relationships," said Dr. Silverman, "we must strive to create in them a capacity to adapt themselves realistically to the problem with which they are confronted."

"This requires three essential adjustments. Social adaptability, vocational adjustment and fitness for family life."

" By helping people to make such necessary adjustments, we can build up in them wholesome mental attitudes, adequate social relationships, an ability to make a real success of marriage, and a greater capacity for citizenship in a democratic state of society."

Believes Movies for Children Must be Built With Juveniles

BY NORMAN CRIBBENS

TORONTO, Nov. 7 (CP) — A tall, handsome woman with a humerous mouth and slender expressive hands is the "brain" behind a series of special children's movies now being made in Britain, Canada and Australia by Gaumont British Instructional Films.

Miss Mary Field, originally a historic research student at London University, says the guiding principle of her work is that children pay most attention to actors and actresses with whom they can identify themselves.

"I believe films made for children must be built around child actors," she said, "and any adults in the story should play secondary roles."

ONE EXAMPLE of how a movie can be made glamorous as well as instructive is "The Boy Who Stopped Niagara" now being produced in Canada from a script suggested by Miss Field. It shows how Canadian and American industry would be dislocated if a fictitious juvenile endowed with powers of magic could stop the Falls.

"I believe in using the fairy tale medium to glamorize a purely factual background," she said. "The chief difficulty in regard to child actors is that children under 14 cannot be used as errand runners and newspaper carriers. No allowance is made for the high educational purpose of our work."

From surveys made throughout England, Miss Field has discovered that only the outer London suburbs and "hard-boiled" Glasgow provide sophisticated child audiences.

"For the majority we find it necessary to slow down the tempo of a film, because children don't like sudden action without previous warning. A certain amount of ham' acting is necessary in order to make the action clear to them."

CHILDREN, she added, do not laugh at jokes about old age, weakness or other people's misfortunes but hoary jokes, such as a jug falling off a handle, never fail to raise a laugh. Sometimes purely secondary incidents that pass unnoticed with adult audiences are keenly followed by juveniles.

Only long shots of fist fights are shown as it is found that close-ups of blows which a child can indentify with itself cause distress.

"So far," Miss Field said, "we have been wary of filming old classic tales. Unless these were properly adapted to the screen the stories might be spoiled for ever for children, just as some old classics have been spoiled for them through being made into chores at school.

"We are, however, trying to devise ways and means of producing the classics for children. We regard this work as a long term policy."

Every film before being released is seen by an advisory council of 17 members with Lady Allen of Hurtwood as chairman. Members include representatives of government departments and of national bodies interested in the way children use their leisure hours.

"Our aim," said Miss Field, "is to give children the best they can take and every now and then to give them something better."

Trade in Western Europe Held Vital Need for Britain

By Charles Nichols

LONDON.—Looking forward to the time when the present "sellers' market" in the world will end, the British government has set economic experts to work drafting plans for closer trade ties with western Europe.

The need for developing solid trade with war-dislocated nations on the continent was underscored when H. A. Marquand, Britain's secretary for overseas trade, predicted a world depression several years ahead.

In the light of these predictions, based on a survey by government experts, Marquand emphasized in the commons the "extreme seriousness" of this nation's economic position due to the decline in value of the United States loan as result of a rise in American prices.

To Help Recovery

Unless Britain could find other outlets for her exports, when the sellers' market in the United States was saturated and dollar reserves ran out, the country would be faced with grave prospects.

At present the great trading area of western Europe is still climbing back onto its economic feet after five years of German occupation. But unless it is restored quickly, and resumes its commerce with Britain, the present brisk and vital export stream eventually will be slowed to a trickle.

In the meantime, while a sellers' market still exists, all energy possible is being placed behind production for export, and Premier Attlee appealed to parliamentary Labor party members to implore workers to put everything they have into output.

Deal With France

In approaching the problem of reopening western European markets, the government seeks the best methods of forging economic ties with France, Belgium, Holland and Luxemburg with the object of integrating their industries. It is considered advisable that each country should concentrate on producing whatever commodities they can turn out most efficiently, eliminating unnecessary competition.

The approach to France is already far advanced. Talks have been going on for several months. Financial arrangements have been completed allowing France to use the proceeds of sterling securities sold by the French government for imports from the sterling area instead of using it to repay its debt to Britain.

Medical and Spiritual Aid Brought to Isolated Coast Families

Sudden Migration Of Elk Is Ended

WINNIPEG, (CP)—The sudden migration of elk, which brought an estimated 2,000 animals from Riding Mountain national park to farmlands in surrounding districts, is over, Otto Heaslip, park superintendent, said Wednesday.

The animals were reported last week to be trampling and feeding in the unthreshed grain fields of farms in the northwestern section of the province. They were said to be travelling in herds of 15 to 20.

Mr. Heaslip said the migration was a natural move on the part of the animals and was not due to increased pressure from wolves, a shortage of feed in the park area or overcrowding as had been stated.

"The elk move around a lot. We had 20 inches of snow here early in October and this started the herd moving into the lower country. Now that we have had good weather and the snow has disappeared, the animals have returned."

Mexican Laborers On Sitdown Strike

WENATCHEE, (AP) — One hundred Mexican laborers are staging a "sitdown strike" on the frigid bricks outside the railroad depot here in opposition to the expressed intent of War Food Administration representatives to send them to the snowy sugar beet fields of Idaho and Montana.

Jesus Miranda, of Juarez, Mexico, interpreter, declared the group had finished picking apples in the Okanagan area and that "W. F. A. told us three days ago we could go back to Mexico if we wished.

"The group will remain here until they send us home, no matter how long it takes."

RUHR LACKS FLOUR

HAMBURG, Germany, (AP)—A senior British official said Tuesday that the Ruhr had only a 24-hour supply of flour. He attributed this mainly to the United States shipping strike. Long lines of shoppers stood outside the bakeries of most large towns.

Grain Exchange Head Claims U. K. Wheat Deal 'Political'

TORONTO, (CP)— George S. Mathieson, president of the Winnipeg grain exchange, Thursday charged the Canadian government entered into the long-term Anglo-Canadian wheat agreement with a view to "weakening the forces of political opposition in the west and ensuring solidarity within the (Liberal) party."

In a speech to the Empire club he said members of Canada's grain trade had been "betrayed" by the government and were making "the strongest possible public protests against such unwarrantable encroachments on their liberties."

Despite assurances to the contrary, the long-term contract was in effect a bilateral agreement "despite the avowed aims of the United Nations in the direction of international trade to which both Canada and the United Kingdom have subscribed," he said.

Thinks Others Hostile

"Do you not think that when the economic and security council gets down to discussing tariffs, embargoes, quotas, preferences, cartels etc., the other nations are likely to regard Canada and the United Kingdom with prejudiced, not to say hostile, eyes and to question the sincerity of any proposals either may submit?"

Obstacles to broader international trade—tariffs, cartels, imperial preference and the like—have not yet been removed and delay "only cultivates the ground from which rises the poisonous growth of Socialism, with its stultifying effects on human endeavor... our own government has not escaped this infection."

Though he was not in favor of abolishing Imperial preferences "at the present time," Mr. Mathieson suggested "Imperial preference. . is simply national self-sufficiency on a limited international scale.

Customers "Antagonized"

Current political thought demonstrated national self-sufficiency was impracticable, yet Canadian policy had failed to improve conditions for international trade. Despite declining wheat exports in the pre-war years, "Canada's national policy since the decade of the twenties has tended to antagonize her customers rather than to keep, or regain, their goodwill."

Canada has 60-odd customer countries besides the United Kingdom, yet after the re-election of the Liberal government "some of the members of the party seemed to be leaning to the left and someone ...conceived the idea of making a bulk sale of wheat to the United Kingdom at prices over a term of years that would enable the government to guarantee the western farmer a floor price for five years, thereby weakening the forces of political opposition in the west and ensuring solidarity in the party itself."

Such a bulk sale—under terms of which Canada would sell at least 160,000,000 bushels for each of the next two years to Britain and 140,000,000 bushels each in the following two years at minimum prices ranging from $1.55 for the first two years to $1.25 the third year and $1 the fourth—was poor business practice for a number of reasons.

Wheat not Available

Already physical difficulties had shown up: "recently there were over 60 boats at one time in the St. Lawrence waiting for wheat which was not there, for the reason that the western farmer is not excited about the government filling its contract with the United Kingdom.

"He is not rushing his wheat to market.

"He is guaranteed a floor price of $1.35 any time during the next four years. He does not need the money; he never was better fixed financially; he sees $2.15 as the price at which wheat is selling to countries other than the United Kingdom and he can never tell but that the day may come when he will be allowed to sell as he pleases."

Bulk selling tends to produce a buyers' market and bulk trading to "sour relations between buyer and seller."

The vital question is: "Are free-born Canadian citizens to have their everyday lives ordered about by the government of a Socialist state, or are they to be allowed to work out their individual destiny as they desire?" he said.

Reveals Strategy In North Africa

LONDON, (Reuters) — Divided loyalties among French officers in the early phases of the North African campaign partly prompted the decision to unite the British 1st army and the United States 2nd army corps under Gen. Eisenhower, it was disclosed here.

A published report by Lt.-Gen. K. A. N. Anderson, general officer commanding the British 1st army, covered operations in North Africa from Nov. 8, 1942, to May 13, 1943, during the Allied drive to expel the Germans from Algeria and Tunisia.

Mayors, stationmasters, postmasters and other key officials with whom the forces had to deal as they advanced after the historic landings . . . were "lukewarm in their sympathies and hesitant to commit themselves openly," said the report.

Since the United States had maintained relations with the Vichy government, whereas Britain had recognized the movement of Gen. de Gaulle, it was thought the United States expedition would receive more local support, the war office said in a note appended to Gen Anderson's report.

Thus the British 1st army was reinforced by troops from Casablanca and Oran and linked with the United States 2nd army corps and the 19th French corps, with Gen. Eisenhower as commander-in-chief. Gen Anderson acted as commander of the eastern task force.

Co-operation and mutual trust between British and French forces reached a high level by the end of the campaign, Gen. Anderson said, but "even to the end the French units were not capable of offensive action against German troops and could only operate safely in mountainous sectors of the front."

Wants U. S. Adopt Canadian System

PHILADELPHIA, (CP) — Senator William J. Fulbright, Arkansas Democrat, said Wednesday that not only should President Truman resign from office in favor of a Republican state secretary, but that the United States constitution should be amended in a manner "charcteristic of Canada."

He said he planned to introduce a constitutional amendment which would permit congress "to authorize a new election for president if the legislative and executive bodies are controlled by two parties."

Contrasting the United States constitution with Canada's legislative structure, Senator Fulbright said "there (in Canada) the whole government is in the hands of the same party."

"That's the way it should be in this country," he added.

Re-elect Knowland California Senator

SACRAMENTO, Calif., (CP) — William F. Knowland, Republican, was re-elected as United States senator in Tuesday's election after a stiff fight with Will Rogers, Jr., son of the late humorist, and Douglas (Wrong Way) Corrigan.

Balloting was close with the election not being decided until early Wednesday. Rogers ran on the Democratic ticket. Corrigan, the Prohibition party candidate, gained notoriety with his "wrong way" trans-Atlantic flight to Eire some years ago.

Zhdanov Speaks At Anniversary

LONDON, (AP)—Marshal A. A. Zhdanov delivered in Moscow Wednesday an address such as Prime Minister Stalin had been expected to make on the eve of the 29th anniversary of the Russian revolution. Soviet sources here said it was uncertain whether Stalin would speak later.

Zhdanov, chairman of the supreme soviet, declared Russia was emerging stronger than ever from war conditions under which a capitalist country "would have become a second-class power."

Zhdanov, asserted that "the blood of our people was not shed for imperialist expansionists and pretenders to world domination — for atom blackmailers."

The celebration meeting sent greetings to Stalin, whose apparent absence was not immediately explained.

Zhdanov declared opposition had developed — "in particular from Britain and the U. S. A." — to the Soviet program for a "democratic peace."

He said Russia's desire for "democratic, peaceful development in the world" would prevail despite "the anti-Soviet clamor of people like Churchill and others of like mind" — whom he labelled "world imperialists."

His address was broadcast from a celebration meeting of the Moscow soviet, attended by Communist leaders and Russian army chiefs, in Moscow.

Zhdanov, 50, frequently has been spoken of as the most likely successor of Stalin, although he is comparatively a newcomer in the high councils of Russia.

Highway to White Court Is Said Federal Project

PEACE RIVER.—W. A. Fallow, minister of public works, in an address here stated "construction of the proposed White Court highway is entirely a matter of federal concern and if authorities of the senior government feel it is essential, for military or other reasons, to construct this highway then they must do so themselves." Mr. Fallow was addressing a banquet held in honor of Solon E. Low, dominion Social Credit leader and member of parliament for Peace River.

Mr. Fallow stated he expressed this opinion before the senate committee investigating tourist matters, the basis for such a decision being the responsibility the provincial government has to the immediate needs of the people of the province, such a proposed highway not being thus classified.

Plans Outlined

The minister outlined highway plans for the next year, major parts of which were completion of the road from Flatbush to Smith, with reduction of the distance to be travelled between the north and Edmonton by 45 miles, and rebuilding of that section of the road from Edmonton north to Westlock with an ultimate view of hard surfacing this road. He stated this road was one of the most travelled in the province.

He expressed his interest in projected community developments in High Prairie and complimented the people for their efforts.

Praises Residents

Mr. Low addressed the gathering briefly, complimenting the people of High Prairie on their public spirit and progressive thought and action with regard to new schools and the proposed community centre. He said he considered this an important development in producing people of high character.

Dr. J. B. T. Wood, mayor of High Prairie addressed the gathering, putting forth the view of the board of trade on the White Court highway. He urged the provincial government to study the problem carefully before launching on any program such as building the White Court road.

M. Vanderaegen, president of the board of trade, was toastmaster.

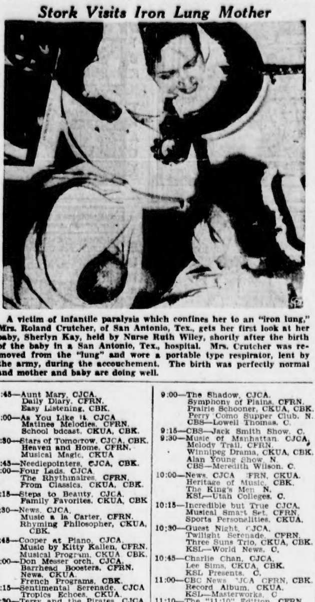
Stork Visits Iron Lung Mother



A victim of infantile paralysis which confines her to an "iron lung," Mrs. Roland Crutcher, of San Antonio, Tex., gets her first look at her baby, Sherlyn Kay, held by Nurse Ruth Wiley, shortly after the birth of the baby in a San Antonio, Tex., hospital. Mrs. Crutcher was removed from the "lung" and wore a portable type respirator, lent by the army, during the accouchement. The birth was perfectly normal and mother and baby are doing well.

Czechs Concerned Over Benes' Health

By William McGaffin

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, (CDN)—Inside circles here are deeply concerned over the health of President Eduard Benes.

The 63-year-old, white-moustached peasant's son who became a distinguished leader of his country has shown alarming evidences recently of ill health. Some sources even say he is suffering from embolism, (blood clot), the same affliction which cut down Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Politically, it would be a great catastrophe, at this critical moment in Czech history, if anything were to happen to Benes, who is regarded as a good friend of the west.

Illness Kept Quiet

Effort has been made to keep Benes' illness quiet. There has been nothing in Czech newspapers about it.

People first became aware on Oct. 26 that all was not well with the doughty little president, who led the Czech government-in-exile in London during the war. Benes was making a public speech here when he was forced suddenly to stop reading in the middle of a prepared manuscript. He had to be assisted off the brightly-lighted platform while the remainder of his speech was read for him by one of the officials present.

Whatever qualms the public in genearl may have had, they were dispelled on Oct. 28 when Benes appeared on the balcony of the historic Museum building to read a speech before thousands who were celebrating Czechoslovakia's Independence day.

What the public did not know is that the next day Benes again was incapacitated and forced to cancel several appointments. Since then he has resumed work but has been forced to cut his heavy daily burden virtually in two.

Could "Carry On"

If it is embolism from which Benes is suffering, this would explain how he is able to continue working. Medical experts say that it is a curious feature of this type of "man killer" that the sufferer can continue on and off the job, sometimes over a long period.

What worries Benes' friends is his stubborn determination to carry on without getting sufficient rest.

Elizabeth Woodward Says . . .

A bid to a party is something most of you can't resist. It means fun. . .getting dressed up. . . seeing people. . .going somewhere . . . .excitement. . .staying up late. Parties are wonderful. You love to go to 'em.

But having a party is a girl's solution to lots of her problems. Parties can be political moves. A party can pay off old debts. A party can accomplish some deep dyed purpose.

If your parents think you're entirely too young to be running around loose on dates with the boys . . .have a party. They might not like the solo angle of dates. . .but they probably wouldn't object to your having your friends at your house.If you don't break up the furniture, if the boys act like substantial citizens, if your family has a chance to get acquainted with them. . .maybe they'll be more willing to let you go out with them in a crowd.

If you're old enough to date. . . but the boys don't realize it yet. . . they just think of you as a good friend. . .have a party. Invite your good boy friends. When they see you can swing a successful party, that you're fun, that you can dance well, and keep the ball rolling, they'll begin to realize that you're date material.

If the boys do date you. . .have a party to pay them back. You can't very well call up Johnny and ask him if you can take him to the movies. But hospitality in your own home is something you can offer in payment for the good times he's given you.

If the boys you know are short of dough. . .have a party. They may be shy about asking you when they can't finance an exciting and expensive evening. But if you invite them over and have exciting and inexpensive fun at your house . . .you'll see them often.

If you want the crowd to make your house their headquarters, plan lots of informal get-togethers, so the crowd gets to feel that your house is the place for fun.

If the boy you like has drifted away. . .and you wish you could get him back. . .make a move in his direction with a bid to a party at your house. You can't very well write him a letter and ask him to love you again. . .you can't phone him to find out what happened to make him mad. But a party bid is a safe gesture. It's a friendly offering of the pipe of peace. If he accepts it. . .you'll get your chance to repair the damages.

If one of your best friends is after the same boy you like, and she's offering pretty stiff competition . . .you have a party and get in a few licks of your own. Let her come too. . .but give him a chance to see you in your own home and at your most charming and attractive best.

You can run around with the same old people week after week . . .until you get to know everything they think and what they're going to say. But a party is a way to enlarge your horizon. You don't have to invite the cozy cronies. . . every time. You can include a few familiar faces, and add some faces you don't know quite so well. . for variety. You go to parties and meet new people. So why not have parties of your own and get to know new people better? And remember, the more invitations you give, the more you'll get! Which is what makes a date book beautiful!

Your Baby And Mine

BY MYRTLE MEYER EDLRED

Most children dislike having their hair washed and wrestle so with the mother that soap in their eyes, the one thing they fear, is almost inevitable.

Mrs. J. K. said she always dreaded to wash her daughter's hair until she let the child hold a wet wash cloth to her face and then she did not mind the ceremony at all.

She asks, too, "I was interested in your article on bed-wetting. My baby has cried before urination ever since he was four months old. He has, therefore, been very easy to train. I would love to know if this is unusual. He seldom has more than one or two wet diapers a day and is already wearing training panties, though he is not walking. Of course, I think he is unusual."

The wash cloth is fine, if the child holds it closely enough. Putting the child on a chair with the head hanging backward into the basin is also a fine plan as the child can keep her eyes open and see what is being done and so does not mind having the water over her forehead.

Eye-shades have been suggested, too, and letting the child put her own hands in the soap suds and work them into a big puff over her head, is calculated to arouse her personal interest in the washing. A spray is useful, too. Sometimes, nothing works and a mother simply has to wrestle.

I would have the boy's urine examined as there may be some condition that is causing some swelling in the urethra and making urination difficult. It is possible that you have conditioned the baby to cry when wet by going hastily to him and changing him the moment he cried. As most babies are wet a good part of the time, he would begin to attach dryness to crying and cry when wet.

Recognition of the need for attention is one of the late developments of the toilet situation. Children can be kept dry by attention to their needs long before they are able to tell beforehand that they do need them. It unnecessarily complicates toilet training when a mother waits to be told and then punishes for not telling. She is the one who must offer the services in advance of their need. "Telling" comes later.

Our leaflet No. 65 "Toilet Training," may be had by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope with this request to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of The Edmonton Bulletin.

Bridge

BY WILLIAM E. McKENNEY

While in Washington recently I had lunch at the National Press Club and then strolled into the card room. I would like to tell you how they play bridge at the National Press Club.

Entering the card room, you find four or five members having lunch and discussing politics. A game of dominoes is in progress at the next table, with the ivory dominoes cracking loudly on the wooden table.

On the other side of the bridge game there is a game of gin rummy, also a little game of draw poker. Each bridge player has at least two kibitzers, and the boys play like politicians seeking reelection. In other words, the object of the game appears to be give-away.

Here is one of the hands I saw played. Declarer won the opening lead in dummy with the queen of clubs, led a small heart and finessed the jack, West refusing to win.

Now declarer, believing he had located the king of hearts, played a small spade and went right up with dummy's ace, then returned another heart. He finessed the queen, West won with the king and quickly played the ten of clubs.

South suddenly discovered that he could not make the contract because he had forgotten to cash the ace, king and queen of diamonds. If he had done so after his first heart finesse, he would have been assured of 10 tricks..

* * *

The play of most bridge hands is not complicated. The first and most important lesson to learn is to count your tricks. Had declarer taken time to do this, he would not have fallen into West's trap.

In Philadelphia, 19 species of birds were counted in one day, in a public square in the heart of the city.

Dorothy Dix Says —

Lady, did you ever really ask yourself why your husband married you? Did you ever try to figure out what one thing induced him to forfeit his personal liberty and assume your board bill and shopping ticket for life? Not one woman in a thousand ever tries to unriddle that riddle and yet the answer to it contains all the law and the prophets on how to be happy though married, and keep her husband eating out of her hand.

ALL MEN are vulnerable and the trick is to find out their weakest spot at which to aim. Is it their eyes, or their hearts, or their stomachs? It is up to the wife to ascertain which one of these she hit when she went out gunning for big game.

If, upon reflection, she becomes convinced that her husband married her because she was a good-looker, why doesn't she keep easy on the eyes? Her cue is to count her calories, take care of her complexion, and dress the part. Not for her the luxury of growing old and fat and acquiring wrinkles and going sloppy.

But suppose, on thinking it over the wife realizes that her husband married her because she was so much in love with him that he didn't have the nerve to brush her off. When she wept when he told her that he could only be a brother to her, his last ounce of resistance melted away in her tears. Her mistake was in ceasing to be a great lover and drying her eyes after she got him.

OR IT MAY be that a wife dimly remembers that in the days of courtship her husband sat at her feet and simply gobbled up the flattery with which she plied him. She called him "my superman" and listened with bated breath to his opinions, quoted him as an oracle and made him believe that he had at long last found the one person capable of appreciating how wonderful he was. But, although compliments are still a dime a dozen, she hasn't given him one in years.

These are some of the real reasons why men marry the women they do, and it must make a lot of them feel pretty flat when they discover that when they thought they were getting a claque they got a critic; that their cooks wouldn't cook, and that their wives just took 'em for granted instead of worshipping them as heroes.

So it would straighten out many a domestic tangle if a wife would ask herself: What did my husband marry me for? And revive her old technique. For men always rise to the old bait.

Why Grow Old?

Don't apply alcohol over your entire face, advises Josephine Lowman. But its okay to put it on pimples as Actress Jane Harker is doing above.

BY JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Q. "I have heard that alcohol, if applied to the face, will make the tiny veins stand out. Is this true? I find it very satisfactory for pimples."

A. I do not think so but alcohol is too strong and drying to apply to the face generally. It can't hurt your complexion, however if you put it just on the pimple.

Q. "I HAVE been reading your column for a long time but you never give the advice which I and many others seek about how to improve a flat bust line. Will you please publish an exercise which will be good for this?"

A. Ah—I caught up with you then. I give directions for improving the bust line quite often so you must have missed reading "Why Grow Old" part of the time. Shame on you! There are many exercises which are beneficial but a few are much more so than others. Try these: (1) Raise your arms sideways, shoulder height, palms facing forward. Now swing the arms toward each other, elbows straight. Cross them. Hold a few moments in this position while you keep pulling in the direction each arm was movnig. Return to sidewise position. Repeat several times. (2) Bend the elbows and raise the arms forward, upward, to about shoulder height. Grasp the left arm with the right hand and the right arm with the left hand. Push the elbows toward each other with a jerky motion, resistng with the hands. Relax. Continue.

Q. "I have heard about putting egg yolk on the face to draw out blackheads. Is this method efficient?"

A. I NEVER heard of it and doubt that it will work at all. It won't hurt you to try it so long as you wash all the yolk off afterwards. Put it on and let it dry on the face. Then wash thoroughly.

Q. "Will creams enlarge the bust line?"

A. So far as I know you cannot enlarge the bust by external applications. It may be that accompanying massage has some effect.

Q. "I have some dark hairs on my chin on both sides of my face. Would it be advisable to remove those with a cream?"

A. Why not use tweezers?

Q. "I am 15 years old and weigh 120 pounds. My bust is 31 inches waist 25½ inches and hips 36½. Will you please tell me what is wrong?"

A. THERE IS too much difference between your bust and your hips, but at your age this is to be expected. Your bust line will probably fill out more and you might take a few exercises in order to take an inch off your hips.

Q. "For some time now I have had hair on my upper lip and on my chin. People tell me to cut them off but they would only grow in again.

A. The hair on the upper lip is usually very fine. Why not keep it bleached with peroxide? You can use tweezers on the chin hair or have it removed permanently by electrolysis.

Try Japs for Brutal Deaths Of 69 Canadian Prisoners

YOKOHAMA, (CP) — Four Japanese charged with contributing to the deaths of at least 69 Canadian prisoners of war are on trial before a United States army military commission.

The four defendants are also charged with beating, torturing and abusing a number of American prisoners.

Heading the four accused is Masato Yoshida, formerly a first lieutenant in the Japanese army, charged with contributing to the deaths of Canadians and with maltreating others.

The brutalities alleged to have been inflicted on prisoners under his control earned Yoshida the reputation of being one of the most hard-boiled of all Japanese camp commanders. According to the record, the crimes of which he is accused took place from August, 1943, to February, 1944.

Hut Collapse Killed 8

During that time, there were 69 deaths resulting from neglect of sick and injured and maltreatment of others. There were several other deaths shortly after Yoshida's departure, for which he is also being held responsible.

It is charged that Yoshida compelled Canadian prisoners to be quartered in a hut unsafe for human habitation, which collapsed on or about Jan. 1, 1944, causing the death of eight Canadians and injury to numerous others.

Specifications state that Yoshida also lined up a number of Allied prisoners and inflicted indignities upon them; that he tortured one Canadian by holding a shovelful of red-hot coals within a few inches of his chin; and that he compelled two other prisoners to walk to and from the camp to the Rinko coal docks in their bare feet, which contributed to their deaths.

On trial with Yoshida are Takeo Takahashi, former medical orderly at Yoshida's camp; Katsuyasu Sato, former guard at the camp, and Hyoichi Okuda, medical orderly in the Japanese army at the same camp.

Takahashi, it is alleged, not only refused medical attention to Allied prisoners of war, but forced the sick, weak and undernourished to do hard labor, as a result of which numerous prisoners died of disease or were permanently disabled. It is also charged that Takahashi, for his own use, stole Red Cross supplies, medicines and other supplies intended for the benefit of Allied prisoners. The falsification of numerous death certificates also is attributed to Takahashi.

Sato is described in the charges as a ruthless task-master who visited his cruelty upon any prisoner who afforded him the slightest provocation. It is charged the while working the sick and weary prisoners of war at the Rinko coal docks in Niigata he often satisfied a sadistic urge to torture his helpless victims. Sato also is accused of stealing Red Cross supplies.

Okuda is accused of having stolen the meager rations intended for the prisoners, thereby contributing to the sickness, disease, and death of many. The prisoners called Okuda "Shortstop," "Pee Wee," "Little Caesar," and "Slap Happy."

Tied to Post

The death of Rfn. James Mortimer of Durward, Ont., is cited as one of the worst examples of the brutalities alleged to have been inflicted by Yoshida. The legal section charges that Mortimer was tied to a gate post at the camp in freezing weather lightly clothed, and left there for several days, during which he was beaten and kicked by camp guards.

Other charges against the camp commander include the withholding of medical attention and supplies neglecting to provide shelter and bathing facilities, compelling diseased and physically unfit prisoners to perform hard labor, stealing Red Cross supplies, and beating many prisoners. All of these acts, it is stated caused the death of many of the prisoners in his camp.

Prosecuting the four alleged war criminals is Capt. John D. C. Boland of Ottawa.

May Ask Big Four To Discuss Germany

LONDON, (CP)—An authoritative government source said Tuesday that if the council of foreign ministers failed to reach a fundamental agreement on the future of Germany "active consideration" would be given to summoning a meeting of the Big Four.

This source emphasized that a meeting of President Truman, Prime Minister Attlee, president Bidault and Prime Minister Stalin would be considered only if the foreign ministers became deadlocked on crucial issues.

Britain Will Buy Flax from Canada

OTTAWA, (CP)—The Canadian government has signed an agreement with the British board of trade under which Britain will take the entire exportable surplus of all grades of Canadian flax fibre and most of the exportable surplus of flax tow during the year ended Sept. 15, 1947.

Government sources noted that the new agreement provides for lower prices than those paid during the war years but stressed that the wartime rates resulted from abnormal conditions and that the other dominions which have supplied Britain with the products have been receiving the lower prices for two years.

The imports have been used by Britain solely for war purposes.

Flax fibre—Canada Grade 1, 40 cents a pound; Grade 2, 38 cents; Grade 3, 35 cents, and Grade 4, 31 cents.

Flax tow—Canada Grade plucking, 22 cents a pound; Grade "A," 16 cents; Grade "B," 14 cents; Grade "C," 12 cents.

The agreement will involve 90 percent of the next year's estimated flax fibre production of 1,000 tons and approximately 50 percent of the flax tow production, estimated at 1,700 to 1,800 tons.

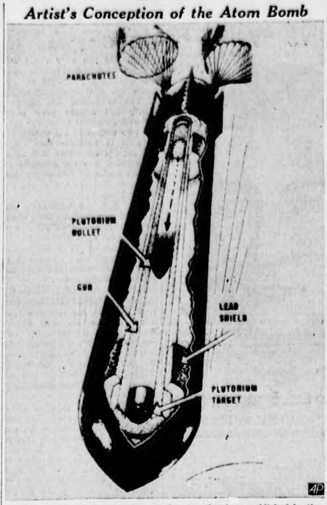
Artist's Conception of the Atom Bomb



This is the artist's conception of the atom bomb as published by the London Daily Express with an article by Chapman Pincher, of the Express. The sketch shows a conventional bomb casting with small tail fins and two "drogues"—parachutes which open at each end in order to slow the descent for better control of a time fuse mechanism operating a detonator, Pincher said.

Slovak Puppet to Be Tried But Light Sentence in View

BRATISLAVA, Czechoslovakia, (CDN)— Joseph Tiso, under whose Nazi-sponsored premiership Slovakia enjoyed a six-year period of "independence," puppet-variety, is slated for early trial as Czechoslovakia's No. 1 collaborator.

However, it appears extremely unlikely that Tiso will be hanged. He probably will get off with a prison sentence, for to give him the supreme punishment would make him a martyr, it is feared.

Tiso's case is especially delicate. Although he was unfrocked, it makes no difference to many of the simple peasants of this 80 percent Catholic country, to whom a Catholic priest can do no wrong.

Enjoyed Independence

Furthermore, Slovakians remember that under Tiso they actually achieved their ancient dream of cutting loose from the Czech lands to the north. They enjoyed unparalleled prosperity in the heart of a hungry, struggling Europe. It suited the Germans to have it that way It was partly the old game of divide and conquer. The industrial Czech lands, on the other hand, were geared into the German war economy.

The Slovak independence, of course, was conditioned on a dictator's whims. This bothered many local consciences. But the Slovaks always have been influenced by their deep-seated desires for "complete freedom" and by their differences in characteristics from their northern brothers.

Today the Slovaks are back again as partners of the Czechs in the republic of Czechoslovakia. The Czechs still have the edge on them but are making concessions never granted before. New industries are blueprinted for agricultural Slovakia. There are new power projects so that all, instead of only half, of the people may have electricity. And the views of the independent-minded Slovaks are listened to.

Anti-Communist

The Slovaks still assert their independence by an outspokenness about Russia and Communism. They showed their feelings at the polls last May by voting 62 percent Democrat and only 32 percent Communist.

The Communists would like to hang Tiso. Under him anti-semitism began which has by no means ended. And Tiso used the Slovak army to help the Germans crush the partisan uprising of 1944 in which thousands of patriots were killed.

Still, there are those who say that Tiso "had to collaborate with the Germans. It was not his fault." They say, too, that he was encouraged in his bloody suppression of the 1944 revolution by a visit he had just made to Hitler which had completely restored his quavering faith in German victory.

Five Slovak senators have just been tried for collaborating with Tiso. One was aquitted and the other four got off with sentences so light they were able to leave prison immediately, since they already had served the specified terms while waiting trial. Perhaps this is a good indicator of the way things will go with Tiso.

Claims Hitler Alive; Termed "Crackpot"

STUTTGART, Germany, (AP)—United States army agents are investigating with skepticism the story of a recently captured SS. lieutenant-colonal that Hitler is still alive and can be heard addressing his followers over a secret radio transmitter.

The SS. officer is the same one who announced on his arrest last week that he had seen Hitler's former deputy, Martin Bormann, in late May, 1945—after Bormann was reported killed in Berlin.

Army officials said they placed little credence in his stories. Privately they regard the officer as a "crackpot."

The German says he is Hans Joachim von Burgsdorf. Psychiatrists reported he was not insane—"at least no crazier than any SS. fanatic."

U. S. Offers End Of Trade Quotas

LONDON, (CP) — Proposals for for abolition of restrictions on quantities of goods which may be moved in trading have run into opposition at the international trade and employment preparatory committee sessions.

A suggested trade charter advanced by the United States and discussed by delegates of 17 countries proposed an undertaking that members of the future international trade organization should not maintain any "quotas, embargoes or other quantitative restrictions on their export or import trade with other members," except in unusual circumstances.

The immediate difficulty arose over a proposal that wartime import and export restrictions be removed three years after the end of the war.

One delegate, speaking in committee, said it would be impossible for his country to have a restored economy in that time.

Striving for an agreement on principles to govern international arrangements, the committee referred the whole question of quantitive restrictions to a sub-committee where the proposals will be redrafted.

After three weeks of sessions, the majority of five study committees still sit afternoon and evening. Canadian delegates are represented on all, but no general review of the Canadian position is expected until public sessions are resumed later this month.

"Everything being discussed at this conference is of vital concern to Canada and her future trade," one authority said. "Canadian representatives are participating in all these preparatory studies."

J. R. Helmore, chief United Kingdom delegate and member of the mission which negotiated a United Kingdom loan in Ottawa this year, said at a press conference Wednesday that no specific item of imperial preference yet had been discussed although preferences generally had been considered.

Allow '47 Ceilings On Late '46 Autos

OTTAWA, (CP) — The prices board announced anyone selling a used 1946 model car which was delivered new to a dealer on or after Oct. 1 may ask the maximum price allowed for a used 1947 model.

Board officials said the ruling was made because manufacturers still were producing 1946 model car in what normally would be the 1947 model year, which began Oct. 1.

Report High U.S. Officers In Berlin Black Market Ring

By David M. Nichol

BERLIN, (CDN)—Army investigators attached to the inspector general's office, who have been probing black market operations here, have completed a voluminous secret report, parts of which can now be revealed.

The inquiry, distinct from routine investigations carried out by the army's criminal investigation division, has produced an amazing account of the activities of two high-ranking former U.S. army officers and about 20 others in a black-market ring which netted a profit of between $500,000 and $700,000.

Called "Night Raiders"

According to revealed details, one of these officers, who had wide powers, organized a gang of enlisted men to break into wine shops, art dealers and jewelry stores. They had quarters outside the regular compound and enjoyed all kinds of extra privileges. They called themselves privately the "—'s Night Raiders."

Their accumulated loot was stored in several places in Berlin. Some wine stocks were reportedly placed in the basement of the American Red Cross headquarters, one of whose officials left suddenly for the U.S. about three months ago.

The valuables were sent to the U.S., it is understood, in the plane of another high officer, who is not personally involved. The report, it is said, places the full blame on the pilot, a member of the ring who made regular routine trips.

Dealt in Cigarettes

What happens next is not clear. One relatively junior officer is under house arrest here. Two principals are already in the United States. About 15 enlisted men, also involved, have been redeployed. The whole subject is causing considerable embarrassment.

In addition to robbery, the ring is reported to have indulged in massive cigarette dealings, first getting marks for tobacco and then buying silver, rugs, jewels, and other art objects. A German girl, a friend of one of these men is said to have been given a diamond bracelet valued at $4,500.

Cigarettes were obtained in most instances, it was reported, by one of these high officers, who sent weapons and carriers regularly to the post exchange with orders to cart away four or five cases for "entertainment purposes." Most of these dealings are said to have occurred in the autumn of 1945 when cigarettes were worth about $150 a carton, in German marks.

Got Only Reprimand

Penicillin obtained from army hospitals and watches from post exchanges were also converted into German currency and then into valuables. One post exchange officer was formally accused of selling 200 to 300 watches. For this he received no more than an official reprimand.

The report, it is said, contains a number of bank statements which were obtained in the U.S. One, for example, shows a first lieutenant with several accounts, in each of which there are large sums.

Because no charges have been filed, it would probably be libellous to name these men. However, they are well known among almost all American personnel in Berlin. There is strong feeling among the G.I.'s because no charges have been preferred, when a G.I. can draw a stiff penalty for a minor violation.

Claim Drill Bores 20 Miles in 2 Days

LONDON, (CP)— Russian geophysicists have drilled a hole 20 miles into the earth with an electric drill, the Moscow radio said Tuesday.

"The successful experiments near Leningrad show that electric drilling down to 30 or 40 kilometres (19 to 25 miles) can be achieved in two days" the radio said. "Until now, if it were at all possible, this would have taken several years."

Liberal Asks End Trade Restrictions

REGINA, (CP) Walter Tucker, Saskatchewan Liberal leader and member of parliament for Rosthern, said Wednesday that "all restrictions on the free interchange of goods between nations must be reduced to a minimum."

Such a policy entails providing credits to countries devastated by war, Mr. Tucker said in a radio address.
